Schuler to remain in city post

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, considered in area political circles as the top runner for appointment as state representative to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Horace Calvo, Granite City attorney, said today he will not accept the office.

"I have withdrawn my name from consideration for appointment to the state representative's office," Schuler said this morning.

He said he reached the decision after long consideration "because there are a lot of things that I haven't finished as mayor—and I want to complete them."

An appointment to fill the state representative's post would be made by the executive board of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee of which Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City supervisor and County Board chairman, is chairman.

Schuler's announcement removing himself from consideration for the appointment reportedly enhances the chance of Sam Wolf, Granite City realtor and secretary of the county Democratic committee. Wolf has been reported next in line after Schuler in the event the mayor decided not to take the office.

The state representative post was vacated by Calvo, a Granite City Democrat, following his appointment as a

Problems for triplets, mother

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Press-Record Staff Writer

A young Granite City mother with three tiny babies is living in a sparsely furnished upstairs flat with few of the amenities found in the average home.

Mrs. Cindy Long, 23, is the mother of the second set of triplets ever born in the Quad-Cities. Their arrival, however, has received little attention from well-wishers nor the array of complimentary gifts one might expect upon the birth of triplets in a community.

The first triplets were the Lux children, born more than two decades ago to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald J. Lux of Granite City. According to Mrs. Lux, considerable attention was focused on the three newcomers at that time.

The new babies are a girl, Christy Lorraine, and two identical boys, Gary Glen and Terry Lynn.

Some immediate help in terms of warm infant garments and household furnishings could greatly benefit the small family. It was found upon a visit to the mother and babies Friday.

The story has sad overtones. Mrs. Long has not personally sought help and maintains an optimistic attitude despite caring for three small babies under reduced circumstances.

"We'll manage. I guess we have to, don't we," she commented.

The babies are healthy and at the last visit to the doctor Christy weighed eight pounds, one ounce, Gary seven pounds, 13 ounces and Terry seven pounds, six ounces.

Their birth weights were three pounds, 13 ounces (Christy), three pounds, 11 ounces (Gary) and two pounds, 13 ounces (Terry).

Mrs. Long and her husband have separated.

Mrs. Long's mother, Mrs. Helen Graham, 43, died of lung cancer before the birth of the triplets to her daughter.

The mother-to-be moved into the home of an aunt on Orville Avenue, declining to return to her husband due to a strong personal belief that their marital situation could not be resolved.

"After the doctor told me she heard two heartbeats, I went home and cried. I had no idea what I would do with one baby in my situation, never mind two babies," Mrs. Long said. Shortly thereafter, x-rays were taken of the mother-to-be.

"The nurse called from the doctor's office one day and asked me to come in. I knew the x-ray results should be ready and so I asked her what was wrong; why she couldn't tell me what the x-rays showed. I thought there was something wrong with the baby."

"I guess I was so upset that the nurse told me there weren't two babies, but three. Then I

Registration Friday for vote on bonds

A deputy registrar of the office of County Clerk Evelyn Bowles at Edwardsville will be on duty at the Madison City Hall Friday to accept voter registrations from unregistered residents of the Madison School District.

The registrations will be accepted to qualify voters for balloting in the special referendum Saturday on a proposal to issue $800,000 in general obligation bonds to finance the school district's share of a new junior high school.

Miss Bowles said registrations will be accepted by the deputy between noon and 7 p.m. Friday.

Specialized staff defended

A strong defense of the Specialized Services staff here and in Madison County was voiced during the weekend by parents of children who participate in the organization's centers for the handicapped.

The issue of Specialized Services' competence in operating the Madison center in a building provided by OATH (Organization for the Handicapped) has been raised by some individuals in OATH.

The latter have succeeded in getting operating funds placed in escrow for them to perhaps take over the conduct of the center and oust Specialized.

The escrow arrangement by the Madison County (708) Mental Health Board is intended to provide time to see whether the Specialized staff's performance improves, a 708 board majority has indicated.

Those who defend Specialized say there are no serious problems in operation of the center and that 708 is being pressured because some OATH are ambitiously seeking to gain control of the center and its funding. In the past, 708 operating allocations have gone to Specialized.

Some dissension is said to have developed because of antagonism and interference by some OATH representatives toward Specialized.

Jerry Kane, director of production of the Madison workshop, cited such difficulties in a June 17 report to Laurie Hamm and Thomas Mosha, co-directors of Specialized.

He said, "As you are well aware, the Madison workshop has recently secured a number of contracts which require the full attention of our staff and clients."

"A substantial amount of these contracts has been procured from local businesses and industries in the Tri-Cities area and demonstrates the support that the workshop has received from the community in general and members of OATH, Inc. in particular."

Following the recent opening of the building, a number of these interested supporters visited the shop to inspect the operation.

Maryville bids now projected for December

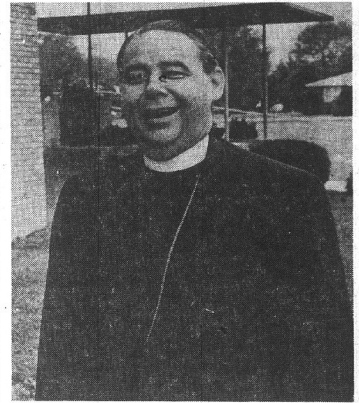

Acquisition of right-of-way for construction of a four-lane highway that will extend Maryville Road from Ponton Road to Highway 162 is being finalized by both Madison County and Granite City and should clear the way for a bid call by early December, it was learned by the Press-Record Friday.

The proposed highway project is planned as a joint county-city project, without state participation, at a cost now estimated to exceed $3 million. The work will be financed with motor fuel tax funds by both the county and the city.

Mayor Paul Schuler said that Granite City now is near completion of its right-of-way acquisition and should have all of its easements cleared within the next month. Details are being completed for removal of an Illinois Power Co. substation, now located in right-of-way behind Anchorage Homes, and word is being awaited from the Veterans Administration for an easement involving property on Terminal Avenue on which VA holds a mortgage.

These are the only two easement matters now pending and should permit the city to be ready for construction by mid-October, the mayor said.

Dave Dietzel, assistant county superintendent of highway construction, has completed its right-of-way acquisition and is waiting only on the results of a "friendly

SMILING BISHOP Joseph A. McNicholas is shown here Friday during his visit to Quad-City schools, hospital facilities and churches. He was installed this month as bishop of the Springfield, Ill., Catholic diocese.

Whirlwind tour by new bishop

The Most Rev. Joseph A. McNicholas, new bishop of the Diocese of Springfield in Illinois, visited the Quad-City area from Thursday afternoon to Friday, fulfilling a busy schedule which took him to all the Catholic churches in this area.

The visit gave him an opportunity to meet with numerous church officials, parochial teachers and students, hospital administrators and local residents.

On Thursday afternoon, after meeting St. Elizabeth Church leaders, Bishop McNicholas volunteered for a whirlwind tour during which he visited every classroom at St. Elizabeth School and then toured and met officials of St. Margaret-Mary Church, Sacred Heart Church and St. Joseph's Church in Granite City. St. Mary's Church in Madison and St. Mark's Church in Venice.

He then returned to the St. Elizabeth Church rectory for supper before participating in a public Mass at St. Elizabeth Church at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

The Mass was attended by nearly 600 persons, mostly from the St. Elizabeth parish but also including persons from St. Louis and from throughout the metropolitan region.

After the Mass, Bishop McNicholas met with the public in the church cafeteria until about 10:30 p.m.

The bishop stayed overnight here and, after an early breakfast Friday, went to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he spoke with hospital administrators.

At 10:30 a.m. Friday, he was the main speaker at a meeting of the priests of the Alton Deanery at the St. Elizabeth Church cafeteria.

The Alton Deanery includes most of Madison County and about 70 priests from throughout the county were at the meeting.

Bishop McNicholas talked for over an hour, telling the pastors that if he is to be effective as a bishop, he will have to work through the priests and will require their support.

He emphasized that he feels Catholic schools are the way for the churches to instill Christianity into young people, and that achieving this goal is important to the future of America.

Following the Deanery meeting, the bishop and priests

Last lanes of 203 open

The final two lanes of concrete pavement of Route 203 from Ponton Road north to Interstate 270 were opened Thursday, completing the project which has been under construction since 1972.

The project converted the section of Route 203 (Nameki Road) from a bumpy two-lane highway, which was in poor condition, into a divided four-lane highway.

The actual opening followed by two days the official ribbon-cutting ceremonies, attended by numerous local officials.

PIGGYBACK YARD UNDER CONSTRUCTION. The Illinois Central Gulf railroad is constructing a piggyback yard south of McKinley bridge on Main street in Venice. The railroad is converting its old switch yard to a piggyback yard for large trucks operating between St. Louis and Chicago. Construction of an environmental treatment plant for diesel oil also is planned in the near future, according to a railroad spokesman. (Press-Record Photo)

Boy, 12, hurt in disturbance

Dennis Gordon, 12, of 33 Gareche Homes, Venice, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 4:20 p.m. Sunday after the right side of his head was struck with a metal bar, welded by a child, during a disturbance in the 2200 block of Adams Street about 25 minutes earlier.

Mrs. Jacqueline Horton, 36, of 2200 Adams St., Apt. 3, who was alleged to have entered the fight with the children, was arrested and was charged with battery.

Dennis Gordon suffered a bruise and hematoma behind his right ear, contusions and abrasions to his upper lip and swelling to his nose. X-rays were taken of his skull, spine, facial bones and chest and he was admitted.

cried even harder and my aunt got on the phone with the nurse, asked the same questions and also started crying," Mrs. Long related.

Even learning that three babies were coming failed to change the Longs' marital problem, nor has it altered since their birth.

The infants were born June 27 at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The usual procedures were followed for infants of less than normal weight and the tiny babies were kept in the pediatrics ward an average of five weeks.

After giving birth to the children, Mrs. Long lived alternately with her aunt and an 18-year-old cousin who recently was married.

Neither household has sufficient room for the mother and babies nor the financial means to help them indefinitely.

The plight of the young woman and her babies came to the attention of Mrs. Vanetta Leimkuhler, a volunteer worker with Church Women United (CWU) and Coordinated Youth Services (CYS).

Mrs. Leimkuhler sought the help of C. A. McMillan, CYS director, who went to Public Aid offices in Edwardsville on her behalf to unravel the technicalities of obtaining financial aid for the mother.

Last week, Mrs. Long received a check from Public Aid and on Thursday she moved into an apartment on Madison Avenue.

There was an iron bed, a stove, kitchen table and three chairs, all left behind by the former occupant. An old-style washing machine (the motor was churning in the kitchen and a solitary crib mattress lay on the floor.

On Friday, two cribs were borrowed by Mrs. Leimkuhler and delivered to the apartment. The babies now are drinking whole milk, a little over a gallon a day. On Friday, two cartons of milk were sitting in a bucket of ice on the kitchen floor.

The Salvation Army has arranged for a used refrigerator to be delivered to the apartment today.

Mrs. Long worked for three years in the printing department at Foto Fact in St. Louis. When she first became expectant, several girlfriends brought her gifts.

"Everybody was sure I was going to have a girl at that time, so I do have some outfits for Christy," the mother said.

She has seven dozen diapers and the promise of three dozen more. The babies use more than seven dozen in two days.

The infants have a few sleeper sets and undershirts, but no socks nor any "dresses or clothes" for the boys. They have no "buntins," a blanket or quilted bag in which they are carried outdoors, and few coverings of any type. She has about a half-dozen feeding bottles.

Mrs. Long has no dresser drawers in the apartment. Her ability to wash and dry the necessary baby clothes seems uncertain due to the other chores of caring for the infants.

The apartment house owner has told her an automatic washing machine cannot be used upstairs. However, a small-size, portable washer-drier combination probably would work.

Public Aid has said the mother and babies will receive a total of $300 each month.

For some time the babies had their days and nights turned around, Mrs. Long said. Now they are sleeping until 4 or 5 a.m.

Very shortly, they will be starting on strained fruit and cereal and soon after that will be fed meat and vegetables.

They are healthy and alert. Those wishing to help the mother and children may contact Mrs. Long's aunt, Mrs. Graham, 2140 Orville Ave., at 931-6117.

were served a meal, after which Bishop McNicholas left for St. Mary's Catholic Church in Alton, continuing his tour of the diocese.

Upon departing, he thanked his hosts for their hospitality and remarked how many excellent priests and Quind-City area residents he had met. He congratulated the pastors, saying he was impressed with work they have done in this area.

Bishop McNicholas became the sixth bishop of the Springfield Diocese Sept. 3 and hopes to visit every parish and institution in the diocese by that date in 1976.

His philosophy is that "it is my job to move in and help the sisters and priests who are full-time people; to help them to know me, to let them know that I'm interested in just one thing—to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ with the ultimate goal of leading them to Heaven."

"That's why we start with the priests, sisters and move from them to the laity of the church. I want the people to know that I'm so interested in their parish church that they will be able to say that even though we have so many families, Bishop McNicholas was here and said Mass for us."

"We have a tremendous job to do and must not apologize for our morals. We have the values, and instead of watering them down we have to be what our Lord wanted us to be."

"My task is to provide leadership and convince people of the value of what we have. We're privileged to have the gospel, I am not going to be able to touch all of the 181,000 Catholics of the diocese by myself, but I can with the help of the priests and sisters."

"I don't think this downgrades the role of the laity at all because this is the structure in which we work and this is the way we help bring in vocations."

Being a priest or sister and working full time for Jesus is one of the most exciting vocations in the world.

"I want students and high schools and colleges to know that Bishop McNicholas is happy as a priest and I have no misgivings about selling them on this kind of life, because it is a great opportunity."

"I feel quite strongly that one of the things in the gospel of Christ is to deal with human beings with compassion, to play the part of the Good Samaritan, and we have to demonstrate this kind of concern."

"The Catholic Church has a tremendously rich history in doing this. The enemies of the church would like to think that this is a big organization with no heart, no interest; this just isn't so."

"We have buildings in which we worship God and minister to people. I feel strongly that McNicholas is a bishop who is a social worker."

Maintenance of Catholic education will be one of his highest priorities.

"There is no social welfare project that can compare to the value of a Catholic school. Catholic education and the Catholic Church are never a closed corporation for an elite group."

"We are interested in numbers, and my contention is that those who talk about the abandonment of schools talk about depriving us of one of the ways to reach out for our beliefs."

"I don't buy the fact that we can't afford it. People afford, people pay for what their priorities are."

"Good parents who possess the faith will be interested and helpful in transmitting their values to their children."

"Young people today challenge the values that we take for granted from the time that they start looking at television, and as a result their values have changed so much."

"I think that every parish has to have a program that reaches out to young people."

"We have to make them see that what we are selling, the gospel of Jesus Christ, is going to help them more in this world and the world to come than the easy way they are now pursuing."

"I think young people are responsive to a challenge and I think we have the greatest challenge in the world for it. I don't subscribe to the fact that the church is old and archaic and that it can't speak to the young."

"I think young people respond to happy priests, happy sisters, adults that are interested in them."

"Working with the young in the church is not just a job for priests and sisters but also for the laity, and a good youth program stems from the leadership of the pastor as well as the conviction and support of the parents."

"The liturgical innovation and the bizarre kind of things that violate church laws are not the way to reach young people. Young people are intelligent. They're not fools."

"If they see a ball player making $115,000 and paying so much alimony that he has nothing left for himself, they know that this is no way to spend one's life."

Vadalabene named to panel on vehicle laws

State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene, Democrat-Edwardsville, has been named to the Motor Vehicle Laws Commission by Sen. Cecil A. Parag, president of the Illinois Senate. In addition, Vadalabene will retain his position as senate chairman of the Cities and Villages Municipal Problems Commission.

"Getting a chance to serve on the Motor Vehicle Laws Commission can assist me in being of service to the area I serve," Vadalabene said. "This includes a major part of the second most populous area in the state. Motor vehicle laws are a major concern to us."

"Further, I'm pleased that I will be able to continue my work with the Cities and Villages Municipal Problems Commission. In the past, I have learned a great deal from being on the commission; many of the ideas I have seen as a member have led to legislation."

State Fair board vetoed
Gov. Dan Walker on Friday vetoed a bill to set up a 15-member State Fair governing board because, he contended, the new system would be unconstitutional.

He alleged that the board would be "accountable to no one and would have no one person to be responsible to."

TRAILER LOOTED
Sandy Harper, 17 Jones Park, Pontoon Beach, reported that she left her trailer at 4:40 a.m. Saturday and returned at 5:30 p.m. to discover her trailer door had been forced open. Taken in the burglary was an AM-FM stereo eight-track player and a nine-inch portable television.

Schuler

Judge of the Third Judicial Circuit. Calvo was given the oath of office as judge in ceremonies at Edwardsville Friday.

Calvo's vacated term as state representative would be subject to election next spring. Mayor Schuler's present term will expire in April 1977.

Reports were current during the weekend that a political deal was in the making in which Schuler would be appointed to the state representative post and would be succeeded as mayor by the appointment, by the City Council, of Alderman Clyde Boyd of the Third Ward.

Schuler said early today, prior to the mayor's withdrawal announcement, that he was unaware of any such arrangement, and that he had not been approached in any way concerning a possible change in the City Council makeup.

He noted that the appointment of a mayor to succeed Schuler, in the event the mayor took the representative office, could not be made by the council because there still is a year and seven months to Schuler's mayoralty term still remaining.

Under state law, Boyd said, a special election is required to name a mayor to fill a vacancy in which there is more than one year of the term remaining.

Amsted earnings improve

AMSTED Industries' earnings should be at good levels in its fourth fiscal quarter ending Sept. 30 and are expected to exceed those of a year ago. The firm's American Steel Foundries division includes a major plant in Granite City.

The optimism was reported by Giff Smith, president, at a meeting of the Investment Analysts Society of Chicago, held Thursday. In the September 1974 quarter, AMSTED had net income of $3,584,000, or $2.08 per share, on sales of $125,111,000.

Smith said the company anticipates good results despite a prolonged strike at its Kansas City railroad wheel plant.

The AMSTED president also told analysts that capital spending is expected to reach a total of more than $60,000,000 in the next two fiscal years. The company's additions to fixed assets in fiscal 1975 will be about $18,000,000. These figures exclude acquisitions.

Major projects include:

(1) An expansion of the Granite City ASP steel foundry to increase company capacity to produce freight car trucks by 20 per cent to about 47,000 cars per year.

(2) Additional capacity to manufacture 2-inch to 4-inch diameter wire rope at the Kenosha, Wis., plant.

(3) A plant in West Chicago for production of non-metallic railroad brake shoes.

(4) A plant in Kokomo, Ind., which will be the company's largest railroad wheel manufacturing facility with a capacity of about 200,000 wheels a year.

In addition, Smith reported that because of its June 30, 1975, sale of South Bend Lathe and its July 1 acquisition of Hydramation Filter Co., AMSTED has "eliminated a slow growth, highly cyclical product line, and added a growing line of equipment to purify and recycle liquids."

Smith emphasized that AMSTED has been making a concentrated effort to weed out product lines with little or no growth potential or ones in which the company had a minor market position.

Product lines disposed of during the past five years include industrial forgings,

South Bend Lathe, these wearaway castings for mining and construction, electrical discharge machines and several smaller lines. Including South Bend Lathe, these product eliminations represented $44,000,000 in annual sales.

Approximately $17,000,000 in cash was generated by the dispositions.

AMSTED continues to be in a strong financial position, and Smith estimated the company will have marketable securities totaling about $25,000,000 on hand as of Sept. 30.

The AMSTED president said 1975 has been an excellent year; this has resulted from a high level of railroad product shipments, and prices more realistically reflecting increased production costs which were not possible under price controls in the first half of 1975.

On June 30, 1975, AMSTED's backlog of orders was $250,000,000 compared with $303,000,000 a year earlier and $367,000,000 at September 30, 1974. Orders for freight car components have been slowing, but this continues to be the largest single element of the backlog. The backlog of general industrial products is down significantly and reflects the softening in demand for most of the products in this category because of the recession. Unfilled orders for construction and building continue to account for the smallest portion of the backlog primarily as a result of the reduced demand for pipe products caused by the low level of housing starts.

Product lines disposed of during the past five years include industrial forgings,

South Bend Lathe, these wearaway castings for mining and construction, electrical discharge machines and several smaller lines. Including

Lengyel tops expert bracket at gun match

Granite City Police Patrolman James Lengyel won the expert bracket competition during the Granite City Police Department's fourth annual police combat pistol match Saturday at the John Marshall Gun Club range here.

About 100 competitors from a three-state area were entered in the competition. Granite City Patrolman Roy Koberna was third in the marksman bracket and Charles Parker of Granite City finished third among the sharpshooters.

Joseph Patterson of Maclean, Mo., was the overall winner, shooting 1,486 points out of a possible 1,500 points. He headed the master competition, followed by Victor Bucat of Hazelwood, Mo., at 1,474 and Bill Conreux of Ferguson, Mo., at 1,470.

Trailing Lengyel's 1,438 points in the expert bracket were Gerald Cavanaugh of Springfield, Ill., with 1,436, and Creed Millsaps of Wayneville, Mo., with 1,433.

Freud Rutz of Belleville won the sharpshooter competition with 1,435, followed by Louis Diebold of Herman, Mo., at 1,425, and Parker with 1,416.

Marksman bracket competition was won by Tom Schweppe of Springfield, Ill., with 1,401, trailed by Frank Seve of St. Louis at 1,348, and Koberna's 1,344.

Terry Lucas, Springfield, Ill., won the unclassified shooters bracket with 1,376; Charles Huggins, St. Louis, was second with 1,372, and Henry Shrodes, Caseyville, whose 1,372 earned third place.

He said the five appeared to be under the influence of liquor or drugs and were "acting crazy," he told police.

He said one man questioned him about the car and struck Cook's head and stomach with a shotgun. He said he offered proof to the men that he was out of town when the car disappeared and said one man stated he was "getting tired of all this," and swung at Cook with a shotgun, missing Cook and putting his hand through a bedroom window.

About that time, there was a knock at the side door and the intruders opened the door and pulled Billy Turnbough, 15, of 204 Harding Ave., inside the house.

The boy was placed against a kitchen wall and was struck on the stomach and face while being questioned if he knew anything about the car, it was alleged. One man threatened to "blow your head off," if he did not assist the men.

Turnbough said he did not know anything about the car. The intruders obtained the name of another boy who had been near Cook's home recently, forced Cook and Turnbough into an auto and drove to the home of Randy Whitford, 15, of 2002 Jefferson St.

They got Whitford from his home and returned their three captives to Cook's home where they struck Whitford with shotguns and aimed guns at him, threatening him, it was alleged.

The man said he wanted to kill Whitford at that time, but another calmed him and talked him out of it, the victims related.

During the incident, Cook's home was ransacked and furniture was thrown about, it was alleged.

Finally, the five intruders apologized to Cook for bothering him, and took the two boys with them in a car.

Cook gave officers a license number and description of the car which left his house and at 6:20 p.m. Thursday, a Venice officer reported he was chasing the car toward McKinley Bridge.

St. Louis police assisted in blocking the west side of the bridge and as the car reached the east side of the bridge superstructure, Venice police said they saw something resembling a pistol being thrown from the car and over the railing into the river.

A shotgun was thrown next, but struck the bridge railing and fell onto the bridge surface, the gun's stock shattering, police related.

The car came to a stop on the bridge and Venice, Granite City

Four men charged, juvenile held in beating of three

Four men face charges in connection with an alleged "evening of terror" for a Granite City man and two youths Thursday night during which the three victims were beaten and their lives threatened.

A 14-year-old boy also faces juvenile charges in connection with the incidents.

Charged with aggravated battery, unlawful use of a weapon, theft and two counts of unlawful restraint are Don W. Stark, 28, Belleville; William K. Tucker, 19, State Park Place, and Dennis Cruse, 20, and Tony L. White, 19, both of Collinsville.

The juvenile boy, who was arrested in the same car as the other four, was from Belleville.

Jim Cook, 2333 Rock Road, told police five persons came to his house early Thursday evening inquiring about a car which one of the men had left at Cook's house.

The door was opened, but the door slightly, they forced their way in, he alleged.

Cook said the car had disappeared while he was on vacation and had been found, burned.

Sickle Cell Anemia testing in schools

Screening for Sickle Cell Anemia in the Venice Schools is being held today and will be held again Sept. 29, 30, and Oct. 1, 2, and 3 in the Madison schools for children with parental approval.

School officials are encouraging all parents to sign the approval for the testing. Although the disease most often affects black Americans, Caucasians of Mediterranean origin can be affected, according to DePaul Hospital authorities.

Sickle cell anemia is an inherited disease in which the red blood cells contain an abnormal type of hemoglobin that are responsible for carrying oxygen throughout the body. The cells change from a normally round, flexible shape to a sickle shape causing problems in the flow of oxygen to vital body organs.

More information may be obtained by contacting school authorities.

1,100 attend senior fair

"Living it up, and having a ball," described the 1,100 senior citizens who participated in the fall 1975 Senior Fair at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville last week, sponsored by the Community Involvement Project.

The vitality of those attending was evident, as they danced the hokey-pokey and swung to the music of the Frank Cherry Orchestra.

The senior citizens also enjoyed listening to musical numbers presented by their own contemporaries playing in the Madison Kitchen Band, the Alton Kitchen Band and the Granite City Rhythm Band.

The bands played wash tub drums, drain pipe saxophones, plastic horns and bass fiddles as well as lambourines fashioned from wood, cloth and string. They jammed to such tunes as "Sweet Georgia Brown," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "St. Louis Blues."

In commenting about her day at the fair, Viola Valand of Belleville said, "I really enjoyed listening to the speech made by Dr. William Tudor. He talked on aging, which is right in our category."

"He said that he started working with retired people in Ohio back in 1936. Since then he has become interested in improving Social Security and the other benefits for the aged."

A senior citizen from Staunton said she thinks the SIUE Senior Fair is one of the nicest functions to the aged in this region.

"Until recently," she said, "I didn't know we were so well organized and as strong as we are. I believe that this organization is a big help because, if we stick together like this, we might be able to obtain some of the benefits we've needed for so long."

"I just said to my husband," she added, "that it's wonderful that this fair and the other activities for the aged have come into existence."

"Before, there were so many old people who had nothing to do but just sit home."

In addition to speeches and live entertainment at the fair, booths were set up in the center for the purpose of selling jewelry, flowers, centerpieces, hats, sweaters, purses, key chains and numerous other items handmade by members of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program.

Sarah Oglesby said, "I think it's wonderful that so many of us can still make and sell our own crafts."

Services held for Louis Mason Jr.

Funeral services were held at 9 p.m. Friday at an East St. Louis funeral home for Louis Mason Jr., 39, of Lakeland, Fla., a relative of Madison residents.

According to police reports, Mason was stabbed in the chest at his boarding house apartment in Lakeland and died in the emergency room at Lakeland General Hospital at 2 a.m. Sept. 13.

Local relatives include his stepmother, Mrs. Alberta Mason; a brother, Lawson Mason, and a stepister, Mrs. Leona Compton, all of Madison.

Other survivors are three daughters, two sons, three other brothers and two sisters.

Mason was an employee of the Seaboard Coast Line, Lakeland.

Supply contracts approved

Contracts for materials and supplies for maintenance of granite city streets under the motor fuel tax maintenance program were authorized by the Granite City Council last week on a recommendation by the council's Street and Alley Committee.

All of the purchases are based on low bids, according to City Engineer Monroe Brewer.

The council authorized purchase of 300 tons of rock salt from the International Salt Co., Charles Summit, Pa., on a bid of $11.50 per ton, and the purchase of three different grades of liquid asphalt from W. J. Counton Co., East Alton, at a

They were the oldest married couple there, having been wed for 67 years. It was their third fair and they reported they liked to listen to the music best.

Choral Society ready to start its rehearsals

The Southern Illinois University Choral Society will begin rehearsals for the 1975-76 season Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 1402 of the Peck classroom building.

Leonard Van Camp, director of choral activities at SIUE, said the group will begin rehearsal for a performance of Vaughn Williams' "Hodie (This Day)," which is scheduled for December in Meridian Ballroom at the SIUE University Center. The society will join University Symphony and two other choral groups in that performance.

The group next will turn its attention to American music for the Bicentennial, performing William Schuman's "A Free Song" on March 1 and Randall Thompson's "Americana" on May 28 and 29.

Membership in the community choral group is open to all interested area singers. There is a small membership fee and members furnish their own costumes and scores.

Births, deaths drop in county

A total of 260 births, including four sets of twins, were reported in Madison County during August, according to a vital statistics report by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

The 260 births were a decrease of 14 recorded during the same month in 1974, the report showed.

A total of 156 deaths during August was a decrease from 161 occurring in August 1974. Marriages increased, however, with 326 during August, compared to 305 in the same month of the previous years.

Third burglary

An elderly couple residing on Delmar Avenue reported at 4:45 p.m. Thursday that their home had been burglarized for the third time within 18 months.

Entry was believed gained by climbing onto the kitchen roof and through a second-floor window. The burglars left the kitchen door open when they left.

Taken were a clock, a clock-radio, a television, two pieces of luggage, a leather coat and about 11 shirts. The loss was estimated at $550.

Dr. Preus at Lutheran Rally

Dr. J. A. O. Preus, president of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, will be the featured speaker at a Lutheran Rally at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Belle-Cair Exposition Hall at Belleville Fairgrounds.

The rally is sponsored by Concerned Laymen of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod of Southern Illinois.

Other speakers at the rally will include Dr. Edwin Weber, first vice-president and chairman of Colloquy Board; Eugene Fincke, a member of the board of control of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis; and the Rev. Alvin Flurry, executive secretary of missions, whose topic will be "The Mission of the Church and the Church in Mission."

Dr. Lewis Spitz, professor emeritus of the Lutheran Seminary and former president of the Southern District, will address the audience and Dr. Ralph Bohman, president of Concordia Seminary, also on the program.

Dr. Preus will speak on the

current theological conflicts within the Lutheran Church. The churchman recently stated:

"We were willing to go to the mat for our faith and there is no doubt as to the outcome. No church body can long support two ideologies which are in conflict. The people of our congregations have a right to be assured that the men and women who are called to serve as workers in their midst are firmly dedicated to the Scriptures and the Lutheran Confessions.

It should be evident to us that to permit people to teach that the Bible contains errors not only dishonors the God who has given us His Word but also makes the solution of doctrinal problems absolutely impossible.

The church cannot long endure an organization in her midst which establishes alternate or competing programs for such vital matters as the education of church workers and the mission program of the Synod, and even goes so far as to place uncensored candidates in congregation of the Synod and on the mission fields of the Synod."

Undefeated Lancers use late scoring to overcome Warriors

Belleville East remains undefeated in three outings this season. The Lancers rallied with two second-half touchdowns at the Granite City Stadium Friday, defeating GCHS South 26-7.

East had to work for its victory, however. Key plays and a tough Warrior defense halted several Lancer drives, deadlocking the contest at 7-7 going into the third quarter of play.

Warrior Mike Clark, a 145-pound junior, was credited with a pass interception and a fumble recovery, and with upending Lancer Quarterback Jeff McCarty.

East got on the scoreboard first after receiving the game opening kickoff, rushing 11 time-consuming plays to move from its own 37 to South's one-yard-line. There, Lancer Rick Mauch took a Jeff McCarty handoff for a dash into the end zone with little more than six minutes left in the quarter.

Following East's TD, South

executed 14 consecutive plays for a 63-yard drive to the enemy's two on ground plays by Alan Benko, Joe Ward, Frank Barunika and Clark.

The Warriors deadlocked the contest at 7-7 when South's sustained drive was extended into the Lancer end zone by Barunika and an extra point was booted by Quarterback Bryan Bunjun.

Clark prevented East from penetrating farther into Warrior territory with 8:07 left in the half when he recovered a Lancer fumble at South's 26.

But three plays later, the passer was thrown for a loss by Lancer Kyle Jenner. East recovered the ball on Granite City's 39 yard line. Clark had fallen on an East fumble two plays earlier on South's 26.

East threatened to score late in the half after recovering South's fumble.

The Lancers drove to the six-yard-line, where a strong Warrior defense stopped four straight TD attempts, forcing a change in possession with 1:49 showing on the clock. Key tackles by Paul Evans, Joe Ward and John Bogosian thwarted East's drive.

South then moved to its own 48 and, with 18 seconds left, posed a scoring threat on a halfback option.

Bunjun, on second down and 10 yards to go, handed the ball to Barunika, who threw a 46-yard pass attempt to East's 12.

The aerial fell incomplete as the first half ended.

South took the second-half kickoff at its 12 and ran out to South's 32, where a Warrior fumble on the next play ended nine plays later with a Lancer TD on a seven-yard pass from McCarty to Doug Harris. The score stood at 14-7 on the second of Larry Green's extra-point kick.

Seconds later, a Bunjun pass attempt fell into the hands of defender Jim Schaefer, who threatened to run it back for a TD until Warrior Benko knocked him out of bounds at South's 48.

East never had a chance to capitalize on the interception, as on the next play Clark grabbed McCarty's throw. The interception gave the Warriors good field position.

South's offense became bogged down on East's 49 and fans witnessed the first punt of the game.

Several running attempts by East's Mauch were prevented from gaining much ground by defenders Dave Thornton, Keith Moran and Doug Hartman, forcing a Lancer punt.

The quarter ended two plays later with South on East's 27-yard-line and the score still at 14-7.

South continued its drive toward East's goal and moved to the five-yard-stripe, threatening to tie the game again. But a Warrior pass intercepted by McCarty, who With 9:40 left in the game, South's defense went to work in an attempt to pin East's back to the wall.

Mauch took a handoff from McCarty and moved out to the nine, where a quarterback keeper play was prevented from breaking loose. Clark upended McCarty on East's 28.

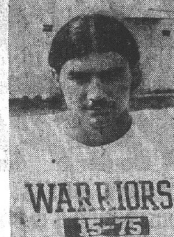

Clark was the only remaining South defender between McCarty and the goal line.

Although South stopped East's Drive 13 plays later on the Warrior 24 on downs, giving South possession, the Lancers used up valuable time, taking five minutes off the clock.

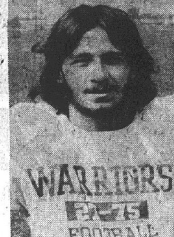

South's offense never got rolling in four attempts, and a Warrior punt gave the Lancers the ball on their 47.

After two running plays by Mauch and Doug Harris gained only three yards, McCarty faked a handoff to Mauch and swept around right end on a keeper. The Lancer quarterback reached Granite City's eight-yard-line before being downed by Tim Anderson and Ward.

East's offense was highlighted by Mauch's 26 carries for 89 yards and McCarty's 94 yards gained on 12 carries. East had 223 yards rushing and 67 yards in the air on four completions in 10 attempts.

Warrior Bunjun helped generate 11 first downs and completed two aeriels in eight tries for 46 yards.

South's total of 149 yards rushing included Barunika's 13 carries for 56 yards and Benko's 11 runs for 94 yards.

Madison wins Central in nearly a statistics but final score

Madison High School's gridiron Trojans outtrashed St. Louis Central 147 yards to 44, achieved a 104-123 edge in total yardage and amassed 12 first downs to the visitors' three first downs Saturday afternoon. But the Missouri's prevailed in the key statistic—points on the scoreboard.

The 14-12 Central victory saw the St. Louis squad get the only points of the first period and an 8-0 lead. Fred Ewing with 8:45 left scored on a one-yard plunge and the after-touchdown conversion was a pass from Robert White to Billy Smith.

In the second quarter, MHS cut the lead to 8-6 with an 11-yard TD pass from Quarterback Mike Woods to Lloyd Williams, a sophomore. A run by Dwight Chillers was stopped on a two-point attempt.

Four minutes later, when 3:34 remained in the first half, Central scored on a spectacular 64-yard pass play to Oliver Gills. A two-point try was stopped, leaving Central ahead 14-6.

After a scoreless third quarter, the Trojans continued to battle back and finally scored the goal with 50 seconds left, Wood keeping the ball on a 12-yard run.

A successful two-point conversion could have led to a tie, but the Central defense prevailed and preserved the victory.

Madison completed four of its 13 passes and Central two of 15. Each team intercepted one pass and the Trojans lost one fumble. Chillers gained 73 yards on 13 rushes and Curtis Bradley netted 40 yards on 11 carries.

Woods followed with 19 yards, Haynes with 11 and Pete Feurka with four yards.

On receptions, Haynes caught a 29-yarder, Williams the TD pass and Bradley two aeriels for a total of eight yards.

Despite the MHS failure on extra points, the contest remained close throughout and might have been won even as late as the final 48 seconds, when the Trojans kicked off.

Chillers squibbed the ball ten yards to the 50 and a Red Wing player touched the ball but couldn't handle it.

This played into the Madison strategy, which was to catch Central by surprise and perhaps gain possession of the ball. But Area high school football teams were kept busy during the weekend, with contests played both Friday and Saturday.

Game results included: Friday — Roxana 49-9 over Triad, Highland 35-20 over O'Fallon, Jerseyville 14-8 over Bethalto, Edwardsville 13-0 over Belleville West, Alton 30-0 over Cahokia, Belleville Alholf 26-13 over Newton, Dupu 12-0 over Eureka, Alton Marquette 52-15 over Carrollton and Broese Mater De 7-0 over Quincy Notre Dame.

Saturday — Collinsville 31-28 over St. Louis, Missouri 30-16 over Centralia and Aviston Central 51-8 over Elvado.

Wood River rally inflicts first loss of year on grid Steelers

Wood River's David Klaffer is fast becoming known around high school football circles as a "clutch" quarterback, entering the Oilers' grid escapades to pull his team out of a rut.

Junior stepped into the signal-calling picture when the Oilers to five straight victories and a 5-4 season.

On Friday night at Wood River, Klaffer got his first taste of grid action this season — after sitting out the first two weeks because of illness — and guided the Oilers to their first win in three outings with a 20-12 victory over the Steelers of Granite City High School North.

It was North's first defeat of the season.

Wood River, trailing the Steelers 12-7 at halftime, took possession of the pigskin on its own 37-yard marker following a North fourth-down punt and ended in the end zone for the go-ahead touchdown.

Two consecutive passes by Klaffer to Jay Miller of eight and seven yards set up the TD with one minute and 31 seconds left in the third period. He then released a 25-yard aerial bomb into the end zone to Tony Hampton for a 13-12 lead.

Late in the fourth quarter, Wood River, following a defensive effort which threw North for a loss of 12 yards on downs, took advantage of a bad punt to gain good field position on North's 27.

In three plays, on Klaffer aces and runs by Hampton and Jim Powell, the Oilers moved into striking position at the Steeler four-yard stripe.

Powell dashed in for the TD and Klaffer provided the extra point, his second one-point kick of the evening.

Klaffer did not always have success in the contest, however, meeting strong resistance from North's defense.

In the first quarter, following Steeler Greg Corey's missed field goal attempt, Wood River started on its 20 and moved to North's 43 on runs by Powell and a 27-yard pass to Jay Miller.

Three straight sacks of the Oilers quarterback by Steelers

Doug Heth and Scott Odom thwarted the drive, forcing an Oiler punt to North's 46 and setting the stage for a Steeler TD.

A 12-yard pass from Quarterback Greg Corey to Leo Pelek set up an eight-yard run by Bruce Jateff and a four-yard sprint by Pelek before a 15-yard Oiler penalty helped produce a North TD.

Corey scrambled two yards to paydirt, giving North a 6-0 lead in the second period.

Wood River gained a slim 7-6 margin two minutes later when Halback Tim Van Doren ran nine yards into the end zone following a 41-yard drive.

A defensive battle followed, with each side forced to kick the ball away.

With more than a minute left in the first half, North's defensive effort paid off in points on a blocked Oiler punt at Wood River's 45 by Fred Clay.

Clay picked it up and ran 43 yards for the TD and a 12-7 Steeler halftime advantage.

The contest brought area fans several anxious moments.

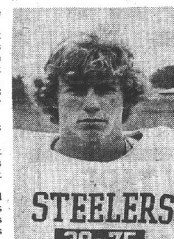

Following North's TD just before halftime, Corey put his foot into the ball and sent it sailing to the Oiler 27.

Four pass plays later, Wood River was knocking on North's end zone door just four inches from a TD. But time was against the effort and the clock ticked off the remaining seconds before Wood River could get a play started.

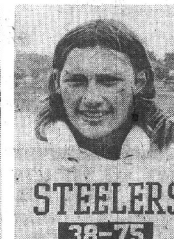

Steeler Bruce Jateff led North's rushing with 13 carries for 57 of his team's game total of only 58 yards on the ground. Wood River mustered 145 yards on ground plays.

North held an advantage in the air, passing for 171 yards to the opponents' 123. Corey hit 13 of 26 pass attempts and Klaffer, 10 of 20.

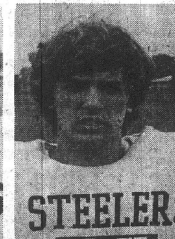

Both sides had fumbles, but both recovered their own miscues — North two and Wood River three.

DeSmet overtime winner over North

"We gambled and it went against us," Coach Bob Kehoe commented after his Granite City High School North soccer team lost a 1-0 overtime heartbreaker to DeSmet of St. Louis Thursday afternoon.

DeSmet is ranked eighth among Missouri high school teams.

"Both teams were scoreless at the end of regulation play. I am sure our defense could have held them during the 10-minute overtime, but the players wanted to switch to an offensive posture and try to score the first goal. Kehoe commented, adding, 'We switched one of our positions from defense to offense and three minutes into the overtime, DeSmet scored.'

"I cannot say enough about the goallending of senior Rick Demaree, who is playing his third year on our varsity squad. He faced an overwhelming attempt by DeSmet and made 16 saves on 34 shots on our goal. The rest of the 24 were wide or went over the crossbar," Kehoe noted.

The entire defense spoke for itself, holding such a rugged team scoreless throughout regulation play," he added.

The game was a costly one for the Steelers, as two players suffered ankle injuries—center-back Bob Young and outfield right Eric Thornburg.

Two North players already were nursing hip injuries—center-back Bob Young and center forward Eric Painter—but they were in the lineup Thursday.

In the overtime, when DeSmet scored, Gavlick was on the bench and Thornburg had returned to action, playing with a swollen ankle.

5th North soccer win a 2-0 shutout

The soccer Steelers of GCHS North have a 5-2 record after defeating visiting Quincy 2-0 Saturday at Steeler Field.

North defenders allowed Quincy just nine shots at the goal while the Steelers took 12 shots at the enemy net.

Quincy held the edge on cornerkicks, 6-3, and committed the most fouls, 19-15.

Steeler Butch Stefank took a through-pass from Bob Young eight minutes into the first period for North's first goal, putting the pressure on Quincy.

"North defenders allowed Quincy just nine shots at the goal while the Steelers took 12 shots at the enemy net," Stefank said.

Eric Thornburg, assisted by Stefank, put the ball into Quincy's net three minutes into the final period.

Wallace wins 50-lap championship car race

Sportsman class stock car driver Mike Wallace of Arnold, Mo., added to his glittering list of victories here Saturday night by winning Tri-City Speedway's 50-lap season championship race on the quarter-mile dirt oval.

Wallace, owner of seven feature wins and the 1975 track title, led the championship race from the start, finishing nearly half a lap ahead of second-place finisher Gary Wallace, his uncle. Granite City's Jack Yates took third.

The season finale for the sportsman drivers resulted in defending track champion Rod Bailey, Granite City, taking runnerup honors in the point standings, and Yates finishing the season third.

A 25-lap main event for late model stock cars, competing also on the smaller speedway, was won by Bill Myers of Rosewood Heights.

Myers charged past Charlie Johnson of Cahokia on the 23rd lap in winning. Johnson had led from the start until that time.

Although the regular racing program is over at the local speedway, sportsman class cars will join a special super-sprint spectacular scheduled for this Saturday.

And, on Oct. 4, late model division drivers will compete in a special 75-lap open competition racing program along with many of the top drivers in the Midwest.

Vans top Panama as series opens

The East Alton Vans won the first of a three-game championship series yesterday 8-4 over Panama in Illinois Inter-City Baseball League playoff competition which took 12 innings to decide.

The game was deadlocked at 4-4 at the end of nine innings. The Vans' Rick Downer yielded the mound to winning pitcher Ron Middleton in the 10th.

The Vans loaded the bases in the 12th on a single by Don Broadway and walks to Gary Collins and Lee Davis before Larry Bolin blasted a grand slam home.

A second contest between the two teams in the title series is set for Panama Sunday at 2 p.m.

Baker 3rd in invitational

GCHS North and South were among 16 high schools in an Edwardsville invitational cross-country meet Saturday on a three-mile, hilly course on the SIU campus.

Lebanon captured the meet with 53 points. North was sixth with 170, and South was ninth with 330.

First through 16th teams were: Lebanon, Hazelwood Central 33, Alton 97, Belleville West 131, Edwardsville 136, North, Normandy 197, Cahokia 224, South, Belleville East 246, McCluer North 249, Mascoutah 301, Highland 328, Hazelwood West 342, Collinsville 399 and Triad 462.

Lebanon's Greg Hogg captured individual honors, leading the other runners across the finish line in 15 minutes and 33 seconds. North's Mike Baker placed third in 16:05.

North and South individual place runners were: North—Holmes (GCHS) 17th, David Futch (GCHS) 24th, Dave Ebrecht (GCHS) 35th, Don Lucy (GCHS) 38th, Randy Presswood (GCHS) 47th, Glen Ahlers (GCHS) 49th, Don Meagher (GCHS) 50th, Russ Presswood (GCHS) 63rd, Mike Colburn (GCHS) 80th, Robin Tegel (GCHS) 70th, Dave Peters (GCHS) 97th, and Mark Carich (GCHS) 100th.

McCluer North won a sophomore event with 49 points. GCHS North was sixth with 155, and South, tenth with 253 points.

GCHS North's Greg Stout posted the best finish for the Steelers, sixth, and South's Jim Duncanson placed his team with a 21st-place finish.

GCHS North runners took eighth place on 23rd holes and GCHS South runners were 10th with 289 points in the freshman meet won by Hazelwood Central with 42 points.

Steeler Dan Webb had the best finish for North, 12th; and South's Dan Taylor finished 36th to lead the Warriors' place runners.

Alton takes golf scramble

There were few surprises during the first invitational scramble, hosted by GCHS North, at Arlington Heights Golf Course Saturday.

Favored Alton won the event and Centralia, also among the favored, finished third. Alton squeezed into second place.

The event pitted two teams of three from each school. Competition consisted of all three men in team teeing off and then the three playing the best position of the trio in the second shot. The best position rule applied for all the players through the end of each hole.

Scores, therefore, were far below the par 72 on the 18-hole course.

Grand totals, obtained by adding the two team scores for each school, had Alton with 134 strokes, Salem with 137, Centralia 138, Wood River 139, Jerseyville 140, GCHS North and Highland tied at 141 and GCHS South with 143.

Among the Granite City squads, the North team of Gary Eaker, Dan Harper and Bob Harper shot the best total round with a 68.

South's two teams shot 72 stroke scores each. Members were Kevin Worster, Al Collins and Jim Cedar, and Jay Fedora. Ben Brown and Bob Crawford. North's Doug Draus, Brian Winfield and George Bartz finished with 73.

Some observers said they felt the event marked the first time in Illinois high school golf competition that the scramble method has been used.

North Coach Russ Chappell said he hopes to continue the event annually.

North second in golf triangular

GCHS North took second place last week with 170 points in a triangular golf meet at Wood River's par-36 Belk Park Course.

Soccer Warriors defeat Kahoks 2-0

Coach Gene Baker's GCHS South soccer Warriors looked sharp in a 2-0 win Thursday at Collinsville against a strong team that had hopes of achieving an upset.

Gerardo Alvarado, Warrior fullback, sparked on defense and there were many other South heroes.

Goalie Randy Lyster gained a shutout, his fourth of the season, and was credited with two saves to Collinsville's seven.

South opened the scoring after 13:28 of the first quarter. Mark Goldschmidt drew a foul and Rick Fernandez attempted a penalty kick, outmaneuvering the Kahok goalie to garner a 1-0 lead.

After 3:03 of the second quarter, Goldschmidt headed the ball into the net on an assist by Fernandez.

The Granite Cityans led in shots on goal, 10-4, in cornerkicks 6-3 and fouls, 23-14.

Close grid games by junior highs

A junior high school football jamboree last week saw the Grigby Gators defeat Coolidge 12-8 and then lose 9-6 to the Prather Chiefs. Prather and the Coolidge Braves played to scoreless ties. Each game consisted of two quarters of play.

In helping defeat Coolidge, Grigby's Glen Edwards scored a touchdown and Vernon Cloninger blocked a punt which was run into the end zone by Tim Bowman.

Edwards scored his second TD of the day against Prather and swept around end for a two-point conversion.

Prather's Bob Batey scored on a pass interception, returning it 58 yards to pay dirt, and then kicked a field goal for the win.

The three junior high schools open their regular 1975 grid season Thursday, Sept. 25.

City auto tag amendment calls for ticketing of parked vehicles

An ordinance amendment that would give Granite City police authority to ticket parked cars not bearing a city wheel tax tag was placed on first reading by the City Council last week.

The action followed repeated requests by some aldermen for "more teeth" in the present vehicle tax ordinance which, as it is now drafted, permits police to ticket motorists without tax tags only when the car is in operation.

The new bill which amends three sections of Chapter 18 of the Municipal Code, provides:

"Every owner or operator of a motor vehicle, motor bicycle or motorcycle who resides within the city of Granite City, or any firm or corporation maintaining a place of business in the city of Granite City which owns or operates a motor vehicle, motor bicycle or motorcycle shall pay each year to the city clerk a tax or license fee for the use of each motor vehicle, motor bicycle or motorcycle used or parked on any public street or alley in the city.

"It shall be prima facie evidence that a person, firm or corporation residing in the city of Granite City or having a place of business in the city of Granite City is deemed to be a user of the public streets or alleys of the city of Granite City, if such person, firm or corporation: (1) has title to a motor vehicle, or (2) has a rental lease to a motor vehicle, or (3) has possession of a motor vehicle for 30 days or longer, or (4) has obtained a state registration from the state of Illinois for a motor vehicle."

Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward who has made requests during several council sessions to strengthen the city's wheel tax law because, he contended, many motorists avoid paying a tax sticker each year, made the motion to place the ordinance on first reading. Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward gave a second to the motion.

Chief of Police Ron Veizer said the ordinance amendment, if given final passage by the council, will permit police officers to ticket parked cars not bearing a wheel tax sticker on the windshield. The present wheel tax law provides that the stickers be attached to the windshield.

Cost cutting actions by educators

State School Superintendent Joseph M. Cronin on Thursday said Illinois education is tightening its belt to adjust to slimmer budgets.

"Our thrust," he said, "is to streamline, consolidate and modernize, while at the same time assuring that Illinois school children receive the best possible education."

This belt tightening, Dr. Cronin said, is taking place at all levels of education, from the school district, where consolidations have resulted in ten fewer districts this year than last — 1029 compared to 1039 — to regional superintendents' offices, which have been reduced this year from 102 to 78.

Colleges and universities have cut back on teacher training. During the last academic year, 137 teacher training programs were voluntarily dropped by Illinois colleges and universities.

At the same time, he added, the state education office issued 1,480 fewer teaching certificates than three years earlier (1971-72), the peak year for certification.

This streamlining, consolidating and modernizing also extends to the Illinois Office of Education, where recent reorganization has reduced the internal bureaucracy, according to Cronin.

"Where there were formerly four associate superintendents, there are now three deputy superintendents," Cronin said. "The number of assistant superintendents has been reduced from 16 to 10. Directorships have been cut from 53 to 37, and assistant directorships from 83 to 57."

In addition, several steps have been taken to implement recommendations of the Governor's Task Force on School Business Management, according to the state school chief. For example, the state office supported legislation to give school districts more working capital by reducing the amount of real estate and personal property taxes which could be withheld from taxing districts. Senate Bill 1085 provides that county collectors may withhold from distribution only the amount of protested taxes half of one per cent of taxes collected, whichever is less.

Recommendations to provide more efficient services to local districts — by separating office functions which regulate schools and approve programs, from those which offer curriculum and other assistance to districts — are being implemented under the reorganization, Cronin said.

"In addition, the state office will provide increased business management assistance to local districts to aid in improving their accounting and purchasing practices, as well as assisting them with other fiscal matters."

"We hope to help districts find ways to make more efficient use of their resources, and either provide the same services at less cost or improve the services given at the same expenditure of money," Dr. Cronin concluded.

Sentenced to 60-day term

Timothy Gaither, 18, Alton, has been sentenced to serve 60 days in the Madison County Jail on his plea of guilty to a charge of criminal trespass to a motor vehicle. He also was fined $50 and was ordered to pay court costs.

Gaither was arrested Aug. 6 at the Outdoor Performing Arts Facility on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He was sentenced in Third Judicial Circuit Court in Edwardsville.

Subcommittee to meet at BAC

State Representative Harold D. Byers (D-Highland) has announced plans for the next meeting of the Illinois Joint Subcommittee on Long Term Care. The meeting will be held Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. in the Theater of the Belleville Area College, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

Following the morning meeting, members of the subcommittee will visit several area nursing homes for on-site inspections.

Established in May this year, the joint subcommittee was formed to investigate various facets in the operation of nursing homes and sheltered care homes. Upon completion of their investigation, the subcommittee will make recommendations to the General Assembly regarding changes and/or improvements in present state regulations governing nursing homes and sheltered care homes.

Hearings are open to the public, and all persons interested are invited to attend the Belleville meeting. In addition, Rep. Byers said he welcomes letters and calls from the families of patients and patients themselves. His Highland office is at 1110 Laurel St. His phone number is (618) 654-0884.

Members of the subcommittee are: Chairman, Representative Joseph Lundy, (D-Evanston); Rep. John Grobner (R-St. Charles); Rep. Ben Polk (R-Moline); Rep. Mike Holewinski (D-Chicago); and Rep. Jesse White (D-Chicago).

He was married in 1931, had three children and now has five grandchildren.

Schuman practiced law since 1932 in all of the courts doing general practice. He was the first attorney for the Madison County Housing Authority and represented it for many years.

He was city attorney for Granite City, city of Venice, and the old Village of Nameoki.

In 1948, Schuman was appointed chief judge of the Court of Claims by Governor Adlai Stevenson and remained as such until 1952, when he was Late registration will be held Sept. 23, 24 and 25 in the lobby of the General Office Building from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m. Registration also is scheduled Sept. 26 from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

State tax officials have noted that under this system, Venice taxpayers pay bills almost three times as great as those of Saline Township property owners. Figures announced by state researchers list the Granite City Township ratio at 37.16 per cent, Nameoki Township at 37.92 per cent and Chouteau Township at 41.44 per cent.

Barton explained that the total county median assessment for rural property in Madison County, listed in state figures at 18.96 per cent, indicates that urban area taxpayers, paying an average county ratio of 35.98, are paying twice as much to maintain the government as rural taxpayers.

The speakers said the Church Women United movement is a non-profit group with members representing all religious faiths in the Quad-Cities, and is designed to aid all community residents.

Mrs. Mary Jane Wasylak hosted the meeting and served refreshments, followed by a business session.

President Mrs. Pat Chasteen presided. Members agreed to donate the proceeds for the first monthly club auction to the clothing center.

Breakfast Kiwanis 3rd in division

The Breakfast Kiwanis Club is rated third out of the 15 clubs in Division 14 of the Eastern Illinois-Iowa district, according to Kiwanis Lt. Gov. Edward P. Long.

Long was a guest at the Thursday morning meeting of the Breakfast Kiwanis in Charlie's restaurant.

He complimented the club on its civic awareness and activities. He noted that the Breakfast club always has its reports to the district on time and properly filled out.

Kiwanian Herbert Camron was the program chairman Thursday. He introduced James Anderson, curator of the Cahokia Mound Museum.

The Cahokia Mounds State Park preserves the remains of the central section of the only prehistoric Indian city north of Mexico, according to Anderson. Anderson said the Cahokia site first was inhabited around 700 A.D. by prehistoric Indians of the Woodland culture. Around 850 A.D. it is believed there immigrated another group called the Mississippians. They stayed in the same general area.

Anderson told the Kiwanians that originally there were over 100 mounds, but only 20 of these remain as the area has been altered and disturbed by construction.

He urged the Kiwanians and their families to visit the mounds and pointed out, "This is a great time of the year to reacquaint yourself with their beauty."

Grant to GC for 'values clarification' on drugs

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott on Friday announced eight new grants totaling $11,270 from The Attorney General of Illinois Public Health Trust, including $15,000 to Granite City for teacher training in drug abuse prevention.

Five awards totaling $78,000 go to Chicago area agencies and three totaling $33,270 to Downstate agencies, Scott said. Four of the Chicago area awards are for drug prevention and rehabilitation.

The fifth, for acute cardiac care, goes to the Village of Franklin Park—$13,000 for purchase of telemonitoring and other emergency coronary care equipment to be installed in a village fire department ambulance. The grant will enable the village to have two fully equipped emergency coronary care ambulances on the streets. Downstate, there are two identical $15,000 grants to Alton Community Unit School District 11 and Granite City Community Unit School District 9, each to provide funds for the training of additional teacher personnel in a values clarification drug abuse prevention project.

These grants will enable the two school districts to expand a successful pilot project begun last year through a trust grant to the Madison County Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency.

As a result of this two year grant, the two school districts expect to include the values clarification concept in the regular school curriculum next year, Scott said.

help in dealing with their children on drug-related problems. Emphasis will be placed on increasing communication and understanding between parents and their children.

Scott established the health trust Dec. 24, 1973, after the U. S. District Court for the Southern District of New York authorized this use of $1,183,325 from an excess consumer fund in a tetracycline antitrust case won by Scott's office.

Grants from the trust are voted by the Trust Advisory Board, made up of seven persons from the fields of medicine, law, labor, education and religion. Persons interested in further information about grants may apply to Jon N. Will, the Trust's executive director, in Scott's Chicago office, 180 N. LaSalle St., Chicago, 60601.

Activate truck route

Diversion of heavy truck traffic from business district thoroughfares over a truck route established on 18th Street will proceed despite loss of federal funding for installation of electric traffic signals at 18th Street and Madison Avenue, it was reported Friday.

Granite City officials were notified last week that the traffic control project has been removed from the state's list of improvement projects developed under the Federal Highway Safety Act program.

Kennedy dinner Oct. 19

This year's annual John F. Kennedy Memorial Champagne Dinner, hosted by the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, will be held Sunday, Oct. 19, in Meridian Hall, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. It was announced this week by County Democratic Chairman Nelson Hagauer.

Reservations may be made by mailing $25 per person to the J.F.K. Champagne Dinner, care of Sam W. Wolf, secretary, 1506 Johnson Road, Granite City.

Propose gates at Omaha St.

A proposal by Granite City Steel to install crossing gates at the plant's 20th Street railroad crossing at Omaha Street was presented to the Granite City Council last week and referred to the council's Ordinance Committee.

The company informed the city that it intends to install the crossing gates as a traffic safety measure and that all expense will be borne by the company. The steel firm also will maintain the gates and signals, the council was told.

An ordinance authorizing the installation will be necessary, and is expected to be presented to the council soon by the Ordinance Committee.

because of failure to meet an acceptable deadline.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer said loss of the traffic improvement in that program does not mean the project has been eliminated. He said other sources of federal funding will be explored.

City Council members in earlier meetings instructed the Street Department to proceed with posting 18th Street and Benton Avenue as a truck route, despite lack of the 18th and Madison traffic controls. They renewed that request Monday night after loss of the traffic signal project became known.

Alderman Steve Basarich said the route should be posted so that they will discontinue driving through the business district.

Brewer said after the meeting that it may be possible to obtain federal funds for the traffic light project under the Federal Aid to Urban System program, but that this decision would have to be made by Mayor Paul Schuler, who was absent at Monday night's meeting.

Brewer said it is possible a request for funds for the traffic controls at 18th and Madison through FAUS might interfere with efforts to obtain funds from the same agency to aid in construction of the proposed overpass between downtown and West Granite City.

In other action relating to traffic control, the council instructed Brewer to proceed with plans to install a left-turn signal system at Pontoon and Nameoki Roads, and for synchronization of traffic lights along Nameoki Road and Madison Avenue.

New electric signals installed during the past year have resulted in the number of complaints that lack of synchronization is hampering the traffic flow. Brewer said that after new lights were installed along Madison Avenue and in the shopping center areas of Nameoki Road, it was learned that state highway department plans did not provide for synchronizing the lights.

The engineer estimated a cost of $11,000 for installing the left-turn signal at Pontoon and Nameoki and for synchronization work.

Other plays to be shown are John Webster's romantic tragedy, "The Duchess of Malfi"; a new adaptation of Voltaire's "Candide"; a dramatization of the life of John Milton, "Paradise Restored"; Sheridan's "The Rivals" and Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer."

Autos resume role as top steel buyer

During July, the automobile industry resumed its historic role as the steel industry's number one customer.

Carmakers received almost 30 per cent of the month's domestic steel shipments. This was a larger share than that of either the steel service centers or the construction industry.

For the year through July, however, autos ranked third in terms of total domestic mill shipments received—behind second-place construction and the first-ranked service centers.

In July, mills sent their customers 5,757,000 tons of steel—raising the total through the first seven months of 1975 to 47,810,000 tons.

ROTARIANS SEE FILM

Granite City Rotarians last week viewed a film on the preparation of Rose Bowl parade floats, which feature floral designs. Ellis Herring was program chairman.

President Bill H. Terrell presided and guests included Paulina Kohl, GCHS South student body president, Drew Karandjef and William Burcky reviewed Camelot auction plans.

During July of last year, shipments were 9,843,000 tons. The total for the first seven months of 1974 was 66,677,000 tons.

Domestic steel industry employment showed signs of stabilizing in July.

The American Iron and Steel Institute says 447,500 persons were engaged in production and marketing of steel during the month, a decline of 4,400 individuals from June. However, this was the smallest one-month employment drop of the year.

Between May and June, the number of such jobs declined by about 8,100, with still sharper drops recorded earlier in the year.

In July 1974, 524,000 individuals were engaged in the production and marketing of steel.

Domestic steel producers paid out $563,043,000 in wages and salaries in July of this year, bringing the total of such payments through the first seven months of 1975 to $4,373,950,000.

July steel imports totaled 805,000 tons.

These imports accounted for almost 13 per cent of the nation's total apparent steel supply, the Institute said.

The impact of imports was much greater in the case of specialty steels, however, as foreign producers continued to increase their penetration of markets for these products.

AISI reported that imports constituted more than 22 per cent of July's apparent domestic supply of stainless steel, and more than 34 per cent of the month's apparent tool steel supply. Both percentages were up from June.

Imports of pig iron during July were more than four times their total for the same month of last year. Through the first seven months of this year, foreign pig iron shipments to the U.

S. were more than double their comparable 1974 level.

By the end of July, steel imports during 1975 had reached 7,094,000 tons. This was more than six per cent higher than the 7,347,000 tons imported in the first seven months of last year.

Through July of this year, the U.S. trade deficit in steel mill products had reached $1.6 billion.

DOG BITES LEAD TO SUIT

Debra Denise Kearney, 4276 Hwy. 162, has filed a suit in Madison County Circuit Court seeking $40,000 from Nameoki Township.

She alleges that on June 2, 1975, while walking on the shoulder of Highway 162 near the township office at 11:30 p.m., she was attacked by a dog, allegedly kept at the township office and garage. The dog is said to have knocked her down and bit her, causing severe injuries.

Free vision screening

Qualified doctors will be in attendance and tests will be made to detect vision difficulties in such areas as—far vision, near vision, visual fields, depth perception, color perception, hyperopia, eye pressure (glaucoma), and muscle balance.

If treatment is indicated, an individual will be referred to his or her own eye doctor, a spokesman for the vision testing program said.

The Granite City Jaycees and the Granite City Kiwanis Club again will sponsor the "Save Our Sight" free eyesight screening program for area residents.

Sight screening will be conducted at the Koinonia Center, 24th Street and Madison Avenue, from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 4. The free service will be provided for individuals from 3 years old through senior citizens.

VIEWERS THEFT ATTEMPT

A boy in his late teens who had his right arm in a sling was seen entering the car of Robert Scott, East Alton, parked at 21st Street and Niedringhaus Avenue, at 4:55 p.m. Wednesday. The boy, who was thin, had some wires in his hand which were believed used to try and start the car. Scott later found the ignition lock of the car had been damaged.

Some increase is noted in Laclede steel orders

A slight increase in steel orders was reported Friday by Laclede Steel Co. President Paul B. Akin, who said third-quarter earnings will be about the same as the second quarter.

"Although this is not a time when I would normally report to stockholders, several matters that are of interest have progressed significantly," Akin said.

"For this reason, I believe that a report covering these changes is now appropriate. The four subjects that I am referring to are:

I. "Oil and gas exploration program."
"At our stockholders' meeting last May, I spoke briefly about our oil and gas exploration program, and about our first exploratory well. In that well we had several so-called 'hydrocarbon shows,' and we investigated each thoroughly.

"We did not find enough, however, to warrant further work on that well, and it has been plugged accordingly.

"We are now re-evaluating the data to decide whether some additional field work should be done in that area.

"As the site for a possible second exploratory well has not yet been selected, our expenditures on the exploration program will be negligible for the balance of this year," Pres. Akin related.

II. "Long-Term Debt."

"At the stockholders' meeting on May 15, 1975, I mentioned that we were negotiating additional long-term debt. We have now made arrangements for a $15 million, five-year term loan from our St. Louis banks.

"The final papers are now being completed, and we expect to take the money on Oct. 1. The funds will be used to finance our modernization program, and to provide the company with additional working capital.

III. "Operations."
"On July 21, I predicted that our shipments for July would be at about 80 per cent of what we consider normal for a month. This prediction was correct, and in August our shipments increased slightly.

"We expect another slight increase in September. Unfortunately, however, our costs have increased to an extent that our third-quarter earnings will probably be comparable to those of the second quarter.

"We expect our normal fourth-quarter seasonal decline in shipments, and that earnings will also be lower for that period.

"At present, we do not expect a significant business upturn for Laclede Steel before the second quarter of 1976.

IV. "Dividend Policy."

"When the directors increased Laclede's regular quarterly dividend to its present level last January, they recognized the possibility that there might well be periods in which our earnings could be less than the regular dividend.

"The matter was reviewed again in this meeting of the board of directors, and no change in this policy is planned.

"We thank the Lord for the increase in orders that we have had recently, and look forward to more profitable operations early next year," Akin concluded.

GC man faces four charges

James Cottrill, 31, of the 3000 block of Buxton Avenue, was released at 8 p.m. Saturday on a $250 cash bond after being charged with battery, disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and intoxication.

Police answered a disturbance call in the 2200 block of Birch Avenue where a man was reportedly arguing with a woman.

When the man was told he was under arrest, he allegedly refused to get into the squad car and police had to use force to make the arrest.

At the police station, he again became argumentative and allegedly tried to strike an officer while being placed in a cell.

ILLEGAL DUMPING. The parkway along Wabash Avenue near Richmond Avenue has become a dumping area for limbs and brush. This pile of tree limbs apparently was dumped on the parkway by area residents, according to Alderman Ronald Coleman who said there was evidence of tree trimming nearby. Coleman said such dumping is illegal and that violators will be prosecuted. The City Street Department discontinued pickup of limbs and brush earlier this year.

State spending trend assailed

State Comptroller George W. Lindberg urged Gov. Daniel Walker on Friday to end "backroom bookkeeping" and publicly detail spending plans for the next 10 months.

In his monthly financial review, the comptroller said the available balance in the state's day-to-day operating funds dropped to $250 million at the end of August, down $65 million since the 1975-76 fiscal year began July 1.

This is placing the state in its "worst position since the income tax was passed," he asserted.

"The governor remains silent about his spending plans, but the legislature will need up-to-date information upon which to base its decisions in October. Political expediency aside, the General Assembly must be armed with more than old pipe dreams to be able to do its job."

The comptroller said both welfare and school aid spending during July and August have been recorded at deficiency rates. Spending in those two categories indicates that a minimum of $100 million for welfare and $25 million for common schools will be needed in addition to what has already been appropriated for the year.

"If the General Assembly is to assess the pressure that is forming for restoration of school aid cuts and for funds sought by other interests this fall, the members must have accurate projections on spending and income to work with," Lindberg contended.

He said the state's financial trend is "the spending of more money than we're getting coming in. Before this fiscal year ends, the state may not be able to pay its bills on some days."

Discussing the spending trend, Lindberg said the general funds available balance was $272 million less on Aug. 31 than it was a year ago.

In the first two months of the fiscal year, welfare grants were up $76 million over a year ago, while common schools aid was up by $30 million, the comptroller said.

Total spending from the state's general funds was up by $201 million in July and August over a year ago, Lindberg added.

Nameoki to study projects for Community Development

Louis Whitsett, supervisor of Nameoki Township, has called a meeting for 7 p.m. tomorrow of the township's Committee on Community Development to discuss projects which should be included in the township's 1976 grant application.

The township is anticipating applying for $71,297 for 1976, which represents $6.11 per person in the township, excluding Pontoon Beach, which will make its own application. The 1975 application was based on $3.06 per person and totaled $33,707.

In a letter to committee members, Whitsett noted the second year application must be completed by Oct. 30.

Possible projects for next year are expected to be discussed during the Nameoki Township Board of Auditors at its regular meeting at 7 p.m. today in the Nameoki Town Hall, 4226 Highway 162. The Community Development Committee is to meet in the same place.

Sept. 30 is deadline for auto plate reassignment

Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett has reminded motorists that Tuesday, Sept. 30, is the final day his office can receive applications for reassignment of license plate numbers for 1976.

"Illinois law grants everyone the privilege of retaining their license number, provided that application is made on or before Sept. 30," Howlett said.

"The deadline is set by statute. All automobile and recreational vehicle owners should have received pre-printed application forms in the mail," Howlett added. "I urge everyone who wants to retain their present number to complete the form and return it by this date."

License applications must be submitted on the pre-printed forms, which were mailed in late July. Recreational vehicles, formerly licensed on a fiscal year basis, are now included with passenger cars on a calendar year basis.

Bankers attend graduate school

Two Granite City bankers were among those who attended the 31st annual session of the Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin-Madison in 1975. Attendance at three annual two-week sessions on the Madison campus and the satisfactory completion of extension problems between the resident sessions are required for graduation.

The school is sponsored by the Central States Conference of Bankers Associations from 16 Midwestern states.

About 1,600 bankers were in attendance this year from 42 states and Puerto Rico. The faculty of over 140 instructors included bankers who are specialists in their respective fields, practicing attorneys, business executives, economists and members of over a dozen university and college faculties.

Participants included Herbert S. Camren, First Granite City National Bank, and Ernest A. Karandjeff Jr., Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

MRS. MARK SMITH, the former Miss Susan Lynne Sackett whose wedding took place at the First United Presbyterian Church in Altoon. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon W. Sackett, 4105 Stearns Ave.

Susan Sackett becomes Mrs. Mark M. Smith

Burning tapers in branched candelabra and large bouquets of white flowers arranged with urns of palms provided the setting at the First United Presbyterian Church in Altoon for the wedding on Aug. 30 of Miss Susan Lynne Sackett and Mark M. Smith.

The Rev. Lawrence E. Jackson Jr. performed the double ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening. Nuptial selections were played by organist Claire Lauchner.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon W. Sackett, reside at 4105 Stearns Ave., Granite City. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Smith of Moro, Ill.

Escorted down the white-carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full-length white gown fashioned with a high neckline, long sleeves cuffd lightly at the wrists and a full skirt.

She wore a lace-bordered veil secured with a halo-style lace headpiece, and held a single white rose festooned with white satin streamers.

Matron of honor Mrs. Lawrence Cardin and bridesmaids Diane Hill and Mary Kay Francis wore identical blue, yellow and pink floral halter chignon over taffeta gowns complemented with cape-style jackets.

Each attendant held a single red rose tied with long streamers.

Jennifer Gaumer, the flower girl, was dressed in a long white frocked-nylon frock and carried a basket of long-stem roses, which she presented to the mothers and grandmothers of the bridal couple.

The groom selected John Walsh as best man. Eric and Wyatt Smith, brothers of the groom, and David Hinds, served as groomsmen and ushers.

Guests were received by the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Smith at a reception held at the Stratford Motor Hotel in Altoon.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted on the evening prior to the wedding at the Civic Memorial Airport Restaurant in Altoon.

The bride is a 1973 graduate of Granite City High School and is a junior student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville where she is majoring in biology.

Graduated from Roxana High School in 1968, the groom is a junior at SIUE majoring in government. They are residing in Edwardsville.

Energy use data sought on autos and appliances

The U. S. Senate has passed legislation to require auto and appliance manufacturers to provide complete energy efficiency information with their products, and to require retailers to display that information with the sale price label.

Since the energy consumption of small appliances such as electric toasters and can openers is relatively insignificant, and major appliances using more than 300 kilowatt hours of electricity a year would be affected by the legislation.

According to the Federal Energy Administration's Project Independence report, residential use of energy accounts for approximately 22 per cent of the country's total energy consumption.

Most of that goes for home heating, but about 3 per cent is used to heat water and another 3 per cent is used to operate appliances such as air conditioners, refrigerators, and cooking and laundry machines.

In the past, consumers have shown little interest in buying fuel-saving appliances because models with improved efficiency features have often been more expensive, the FEAs says. Also, energy specifications presently available to consumers, such as BTU ratings, are usually worded in confusing technical terminology difficult to translate into personal cost-saving terms.

Under the legislation, manufacturers are to supply appliance and automobile energy guides with their products, providing consumers with the information needed to make their most cost-effective and energy-efficient purchase.

The guides are to describe, in simple language, the consumption characteristics of similar products offered by a manufacturer, and provide such comparative shopping information as charts — showing efficiency comparisons between models offered in a given line of appliances — and the annual operating costs of different models.

Comparison of models sold by competing manufacturers is not anticipated, however.

Advertisements would be required to show estimated annual operating costs of the product being advertised.

Similar provisions are included in a comprehensive energy bill being debated by the House of Representatives.

Since an energy labeling program is also part of the President's energy package submitted to Congress earlier this year, it is believed likely that some form of such legislation will be signed into law this session.

Because fuel prices and consumer usage patterns vary from season to season and from region to region, these factors will need to be taken into consideration when the guides are written, it is being pointed out.

Good is also consumer buying habits and enable prospective buyers to weigh the original purchase price against operating costs when shopping for large energy-consuming products.

Most autos and large appliances are purchased on installment plans and a few dollars extra on a monthly payment may well be balanced by reduced utility or gasoline bills, sponsors say. They hope to "maximize purchasing power while aiding the nation's conservation efforts."

GC schools acquire new driver training cars

The Granite City Board of Education last week accepted a bid by Big-Four Chevrolet Co., Collinsville, to furnish seven new cars to the district for the drivers' training program at both North and South High School, at no charge except for maintenance and the installation of dual controls and identification.

Automobiles are offered to the school district without cost as a public service, with the school district to pay maintenance costs totaling $92.45 for lubrication, oil changes, oil filters, tune-up, front wheel alignment and car washes. A cost of $54 per unit for installation of dual controls and identification also will be charged.

Another bid from Matthews Chevrolet was returned unopened after board members rejected the bid because it was received a day later than the board deadline for acceptance.

A request from Larry R. Dew, director of special education for tuition and transportation of a Granite City student to attend the Quad-Cities Pre-School and Adjustment Center, sponsored by the Madison County Association for Retarded Citizens, also was approved. Authority to place three Venice students in the intermediate EMH class at Wilson School, where there are vacancies, was granted.

Announcement was made of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association dinner series set for Oct. 8, Nov. 18, Jan. 13 and March 10. Cost of tickets for the series will be $30.

The program is arranged for business and industrial representatives to meet and discuss current projects with instructors in the schools vocational departments.

Other meetings and workshop sessions announced include the Illinois Association of School Boards (IASB) Southwestern Division meeting on Oct. 21 at Lewis and Clark College, and the National School Board Association (NSBA) workshop Oct. 3-5 in Chicago, and Oct. 16 through Oct. 19 in Anaheim, Calif.

Trip approval granted by board members was to Robert Todoroff to attend a band festival in Murfreesboro, Tenn., Oct. 23-25; Mary Jan Raphael, Emma Boyer, Helen Hall and Ruth Jansen (preschool) to attend a workshop on the Crucial Early Years at the University of Missouri, Oct. 4, and to Ralph Rotter and Tom Pinnell (South) to attend the National Science Teachers Association Convention in Indianapolis on Oct. 23-25.

A report was submitted by Robert F. Maxwell, vocational director, and Harold Davis, board member, on an administrative advisory council meeting for the J. B. Johnson Career Development Center, Alton, which they attended. They said opening dates at the center and class schedules are tentative at the present time.

Further meetings will be announced on progress of the project.

Board members also adopted a rules and regulations policy to implement the current policy on physical examinations for pupils. The policy details procedure for providing medical and dental examination forms.

Gifts accepted by the board included a copier, film strip projector, electric fans, various playground equipment offered by the Niedringhaus School PTA, and funds to purchase shelving at Frohardt School provided by the PTA Unit there.

The Easter Seal Society was given permission to distribute letters to parents in the multiple handicapped class, trainable class and severely handicapped early childhood class relative to participation of these children in the Velled Prophets fall festival parade in St. Louis on Sept. 27.

Other requests for use of facilities approved by the board included Area Council PTA meetings from Sept. 25 to May 27 at five of the elementary schools; a workshop on Nov. 1 at Grigsby, co-hosted by Coolidge for the Southwestern District of the Illinois Association of Junior High Student Councils.

Granite City Jaycees to sue the South High School auditorium on Feb. 14 for Miss Granite City Pageant, Country Shindig on March 21.

Carl L. Beggs appointed to Laclede post

Carl L. Beggs has been elected a corporate officer and appointed to the position of assistant treasurer at Laclede Steel Co. effective Oct. 1.

Beggs succeeds W. C. Schewe, who is retiring. Beggs will report to W. S. Anderson Jr., vice-president-finance, treasurer and secretary. The announcement was made by Paul B. Akin, president.

Beggs, prior to his new assignment, was assistant controller for Laclede Steel. He has been an employee of the company since April 1961.

A native of Wood River, Beggs is a graduate of East Allen-Wood River High School and of Southern Illinois University. He is a past president of the St. Louis Chapter National Association of Accountants and is currently a national director of the association.

GC man charged

Richard D. Dunbar, 28, of 2028 Iowa St., was arrested at his home at 10:05 p.m. Thursday, and was charged with discharging a firearm in the city, disorderly conduct and intoxication.

Officers said they were called to the Dunbar home on a report of gunshots being heard. They knocked at the front door and alleged that after a wait, Dunbar's wife answered the door.

Police said they saw a man inside drop something behind the couch. They entered and alleged finding a loaded and cocked rifle behind the couch. The man had ammunition in his pocket. A semi-automatic shotgun and more ammunition were found on the kitchen table, police alleged.

SUIT CITIES INJURY
Everett B. Jones has filed a suit in Madison County Circuit Court seeking $75,000 from Granite City Steel, a division of National Steel.

Jones alleges that on Feb. 3, 1975, while employed as a train engineer for the steel firm, he was injured when a train he was operating collided with another train owned by the steel company.

Venice city officials conferring last week at the McKinley Bridge office with representatives of Hardesty and Hanover, consulting engineers, from New York, who are responsible for evaluating safety, repairs and general operation of the bridge by the city. Clockwise around the table are: Joseph Brooks, bridge engineer for the City of Venice; Henry Fischer and Michael Cusano, consulting engineers with the New York firm; Venice Aldermen Tyrone Echols and Thomas Voegel, members of the aldermanic bridge committee; Duane Georgeff, bridge manager; and Venice Mayor William M. Ebersold. Repairs are under way on the east and west approaches to the bridge. The Hardesty and Hanover representatives were in the local area through Saturday. (Press-Record Photo)

Expense account at issue

A new ordinance calling for a $100-per-month expense account for the superintendent of streets is expected to be presented to Granite City Council members tonight as the result of debate last week in which it was charged an earlier bill for that purpose had been "buried."

An argument over the $100 monthly expenses for Street

Superintendent Lionel Portell dates back to contract negotiations with city employees during July and August, and subsequent efforts by some aldermen to block the expense account.

The expense account for Portell was the only unfinished item of business in finalizing new working agreements under the 1975-76 city budget.

Preparation of a new measure to resubmit the issue to the council was requested in last week's council meeting by Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward who told the aldermen that the original bill calling for the expense account "should have been brought back on the floor so we could vote it up or vote it down."

The original ordinance that would have established the $1,200-per-year expense account was discussed by the council in its Sept. 2 meeting, but action was deferred.

Whitmer noted that under a deferral motion, an ordinance or resolution must be brought before the council in its next meeting. The issue was not brought up in last week's meeting.

"Somebody is trying to bury this, and I don't like that kind of action," he added.

Whitmer asked who had the original ordinance on which action had been deferred. Alderman Roy Poulos, chairman of the Ordinance Committee, said it had not been given to him, and City Clerk Robert Stevens said he had not seen the deferred bill.

City Attorney George Filcoff told Whitmer the customary procedure would be for the Ordinance Committee to present the ordinance in the meeting following that in which action had been deferred. Filcoff suggested that a new ordinance could be prepared and presented in the next meeting, which is scheduled tonight.

"I'm not saying that I am for or against the expense account, but I don't think things like this should happen," Whitmer noted, adding that the interest of fair play I believe this issue should be disposed of by either voting it up or voting it down."

The incident was the second within the past month in which Granite City Aldermen protested the disappearance of ordinance issues following council delay in action on original bills.

Three weeks ago, Alderman Warren Decatur of the Fourth Ward objected to adoption of an ordinance in which a revised schedule of vacations for sewerage treatment plant employees had been deleted. The ordinance involved fringe benefits in new working agreements that had been carried over from one meeting to another.

R. E. Dunklau new manager of Illinois Bell

Robert E. Dunklau of Arlington Heights will be the new general manager-downstate area for Illinois Bell, effective Oct. 1.

He succeeds Bernard F. Sergesetter who has accepted a position as director-stocks and bonds systems, Treasury Department, AT&T, New York.

Dunklau was promoted to his new duties from general supervisor-plant, suburban operations. Included in the downstate operations general manager's duties is the complete responsibility for Illinois Bell service in all communities in the central and southern area of the state, which includes the Quad-City area.

Dunklau began his telephone career with Illinois Bell in Wheaton as an installer repairman. In November 1960 he was promoted to station installation foreman in Downers Grove; in April 1963 he was promoted to wire chief in Riverdale.

He was named general service supervisor - clerical services, General Service Department, in April 1966. In March 1970 he was promoted to division plant manager in Skokie. He has held his present post since February 1973.

First Amendment is cornerstone of the Bill of Rights

Los Angeles Times comment — It is time for an aggressive and absolutist defense by newspapers of the First Amendment — stiffening their backs against compromise.

This means explaining to an often critical and skeptical public that newspapers' freedom is theirs — explaining why, as Justice Potter Stewart recently said, the press is the only organized, private business given constitutional protection.

While fairness is the ideal to which most of us aspire, the First Amendment doesn't guarantee fairness. All it guarantees is freedom — and that includes the freedom to be unfair. The First Amendment doesn't guarantee the outcome of the contest of opinions; it just guarantees that there will be a contest.

The press should start arguing much more vigorously than it has been that the First Amendment — the kingpost of our liberty — is more nearly an absolute right than any right natural to man, or guaranteed in the Constitution. The First Amendment, taken in its entirety, is the preeminent right in the Bill of Rights.

The very essence of democracy is free expression; and it is free expression — of religion, of speech, of the press, of peaceable assembly — that the First Amendment was written to protect.

Free speech is the means by which our rights — habeas corpus, the Fourth and Fifth Amendments and the others — are protected. The other nine rest on the First. Without the First, the other nine are defenseless. And the free press is the constitutionally-protected agent of free speech.

Breakfast will inaugurate annual United Way campaign

United Way campaign starts are called kickoffs because they usually coincide with the football season, and the analogy goes deeper.

There is a "team" (United Way) president, Mitchell Milonski, a "coach," Campaign Chairman David Fox; drive captains to oversee the forward progress; a host of team members; thousands of backers who contribute to the cause; and a well-defined goal that must be reached in order to turn defeat into victory.

The fall 1975 Tri-Cities Area United Way drive will begin Thursday morning with a kickoff breakfast at the Granite City Army Installation, seeking to raise gifts and pledges totaling $430,000 to help finance the 1976 operations of member agencies.

Rather than token donations, it is important that the combined need is greater than in the case of any individual solicitations. There are 16 active agencies, helping all who are deserving of a "helping hand," during all 12 months of the year.

"Fair Share" giving has made impressive headway in the industrial division of the local drive, with generous pledges by most employees and firms in the past several years. Similar progress has been made in other instances, as well, but it must become the pattern in all divisions in order for there to be truly fair sharing of Quad-City health-service-welfare-activity-character building costs.

Ticketing of all unlicensed cars unfair to non-residents

An ordinance amendment placed on first reading by the City Council of Granite City may lead to complications if enacted into law.

The legislation empowers police to ticket parked autos that lack city auto license decals. Police say this is to be done by observation, without time-consuming cross-checking of license lists.

If a ticketed auto happens to be owned by a non-resident of the city, authorities propose to place the "burden of proof" on the individual to prove that he lives outside the city limits. This presumably would involve going to the City Hall, perhaps on a frequent basis.

The procedure seems not only unfair to non-residents but also a violation of the concept that citizens are innocent of wrongdoing until proven otherwise. It could easily lead to harassment of large numbers of innocent citizens.

If there is a simple way to tighten enforcement of the windshield sticker law, this surely isn't it.

Many fine, responsible young adults

To the Editor:

Upon learning that I teach high school, college and career young adults in church, a lady said to me, "I hear those college kids can't read, write or spell." She was sincere and I was equally sincere in my reply.

"Yes, we have some college graduates who cannot read, write, spell or speak effectively. But we have some who are educated far beyond what we could have dreamed even 30 years ago."

She wanted to know what had happened to those we hear so much about. She seemed interested in my answer, so I thought your readers might be interested in my answer to her.

"We have in this country a group of kids who have had everything material handed to them. Many of them have been handed money and told to 'do as you please so long as you do not bother me."

They have grown up with the idea that they are not of much use to anyone. Money has bought them popularity and they cannot realize that they are not happy—that money doesn't buy happiness—and they do not have anything to hang onto.

Many have turned to dope, others to drink or sex or robbery—to the pits. In society, they have financed a "college education."

These kids have gone to college with the idea that they do not amount to much, and will never amount to much. This philosophy leads to "Let's eat, drink and be merry for tomorrow we die." And die they have.

If not physically, they die mentally. One can only guess.

Therefore, they never accomplish anything. I am human, and I hear and feel the same things this lady was relating to me. But I was so glad I could tell her of the wonderful young adults that I know.

Sometimes I'm prone to wring my hands and say, "What on earth are we to do?" Then I go to class with my beautiful, clean, intelligent young adults and wish I could shout from the housetops, "Thank you, Lord! The world is in great hands. With your help, we are going to make it!"

Empire building by landlord takes?

To the Editor:

The 708 Board has singled out specialized Services and attacked it—and its board members.

Specialized Services was the only budget not approved as submitted. The budget previously was for $180,000 and the 708 Board cut it to $163,310.

Again, some members of 708 are dealing in personalities and vendetta against certain individuals, instead of performing their job for the benefit of the people they are supposed to serve—the clients and the taxpayers.

A total disregard for the handicapped was evident when a budget for a greenhouse (sheltered business) was not even considered.

The greenhouse program could be self-supporting, and no tax monies would be required after the project is started.

There was a total disregard for people needing this training and work project, and a lack of common sense by some 708 Board members—especially our three local members of 708.

The 708 Board should have met with the greenhouse committee and the motion to so project before attacking it so viciously.

Incidentally, the greenhouse was the only budget request approved by the board of directors of OATH (Organization for the Handicapped).

Had it not been for Mr. Bugger, money would have been appropriated for another workshop in the Quad-Cities area. This would have been a duplication of services paid for by taxpayers of Madison County, Inc., was organized for the purpose of providing a building for Specialized Services to operate a workshop.

This has been accomplished. Mr. Bugger made a motion to table the requested budget of $30,000 until a need for another workshop is established.

One of our Local 708 Board members blithely offered an amendment to the motion to so table the requested budget of $30,000 for the unneeded program. The amended motion passed. This budget submitted by the OATH president—had not been voted on by the OATH board.

How unfortunate this waste of tax money.

This $30,000 or a portion of it should have been appropriated for the greenhouse project. This is a project of unlimited potential; many clients would be served—trained for employment either in a sheltered business or placed in private employment.

The greenhouse committee from OATH has been able to secure pledges of $10,000 from

Tri-City Port links river system with roads, rails and industries

The Tri-City Regional Port District exists as one of 17 public port districts in Illinois and one of five port entities in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

It has under its authority 15,000 acres of land adjacent to the Mississippi River, of which 300 acres are currently devoted to port operations or are being developed as industrial sites.

The Port District, created by an Act of the Illinois legislature in 1939, was given the charge of improving and promoting transportation activities in Southwestern Illinois as a component of the U.S. inland waterway system.

Today the Port handles in excess of 500,000 tons annually via the facilities of three current operators—Apex Oil Company, specializing in the storage and handling of liquid bulk materials; Bulk Service Corporation, handling dry bulk materials; and St. Louis Terminal Corporation, maintaining facilities for the storage and handling of dry bulk commodities and general cargo.

The location of the Tri-City Port on an ice-free, slack water channel of the Mississippi River and its 5,000-foot harbor area provide a space for efficient fleet operations and room for future port expansion.

Within 25 miles of the port, the Missouri and Illinois Rivers meet the Mississippi and provide a lifeline, enabling access to the midwestern cities of Chicago and Kansas City.

Existing facilities provide for virtually all types of commodity transfers between barge and rail and between barge and truck.

Pipeline facilities immediately adjacent to the port connect the western end of Lake Charles, La., and Hammond, Ind.

The Tri-City Port offers: a location near the geographic and population center of the United States; a 5,000-foot harbor area; an ice-free slack water harbor facility in the U.S. inland waterway system.

Existing on-site rail switching services with direct connections to seven trunk rail lines.

Existing dry bulk, liquid bulk materials and general cargo handling facilities.

Industrial sites within 15 minutes of downtown St. Louis.

Full-time professional management capabilities.

Bellevue, chairman of the Port District Board, comments that "The Tri-City Regional Port District was created by the legislature to improve the economic vitality of Southwestern Illinois through the improvement of intermodal transportation facilities and services."

The Port District has been, and continues to be, successful in the execution of this charge. "We recognized at the outset that the best way to our end was to provide industry with the transportation services they

the community to acquire the property.

All the project needed was funding for operating cost. Some 708 members chose to hear only a one-sided opinion, that of the OATH president, who has been against the project from the beginning.

He is only the chairman of OATH and does not reflect the wishes of the majority.

He is intent on sabotaging all the good OATH has done. His motives or reasons are unimportant. One can only guess.

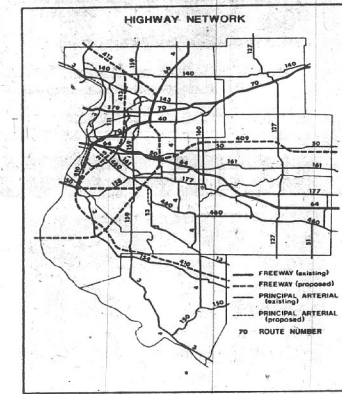

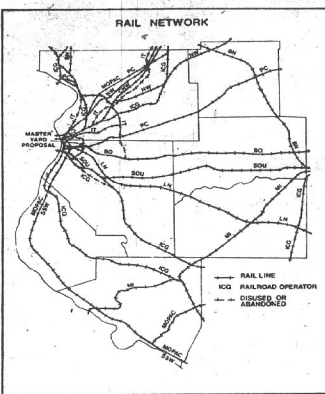

He is determined to remove Specialized Services from the OATH building and take over the program personally.

Specialized Services in a motion passed by its board will continue to operate at the Quad-Cities as long as there is a need.

This can be in the OATH building or another suitable one.

The sad thing about this problem is that too few think about the overall benefits derived from our mental health tax dollars. But thank heaven for the members of the 708 Board like Mr. Bugger, Dr. Horton and Mr. Little who are conscientious citizens and put the need of the handicapped above all else, including political expediency.

PRESS-RECORD/READER

needed at the most reasonable cost to them.

"Ever-increasing throughput at the port each year attests to the success of this approach."

"Proposed new port facilities and industrial land development ensure a continuingly high level of service to industry by the Tri-City Regional Port District."

Other board members are Treasurer Avery Schermer, Henry D. Karandjif, Walter Simmons, Von De Cruse, Clyde Boyd and Burton Bernard.

The Tri-City Regional Port District was created by the General Assembly on April 1, 1939.

The mandate of the Port District as cited in the Act is to promote industrial, commercial and transportation activities and thereby contribute to the socio-economic welfare of the area's residents.

Its broad legislative authority affords the Port District the opportunity to serve people of Southwestern Illinois and St. Louis through service to industry.

The authority to effect development via the provision of services and incentives to industry is the key element of Tri-City's positive influence on the regional economy, Belloff believes.

The Illinois state government is the base from which the Tri-City Regional Port District derives its authority and responsibilities. Both units of government are committed to improving the public welfare—through general power accorded it by the Constitution and the Port District through special measures accorded it by state legislation.

Briefly, the Port District has the following powers delegated by statute:

1. To issue permits for the construction of any structure within 40 feet of a navigable waterway.

2. To prevent obstruction to navigable waterways and to regulate anchorage, moorage, and speed of waterborne vessels.

3. To own, operate, lease and maintain port and terminal facilities and to fix and collect just and non-discriminatory charges for the use of these facilities.

4. To provide interim financing for the construction and development of port and industrial facilities.

5. To issue revenue bonds for construction of industrial and port facilities.

6. To establish and maintain a public airport.

7. To police its physical property and to enact ordinances regarding the use of that property.

8. To enter into agreements with corporate authorities concerning leases and the disposition of property.

9. To accept grants, loans and appropriations from the state and federal governments.

10. To issue, with referendum, general obligation bonds for improvement of the facilities of the Port District.

11. To levy and collect taxes if approved through referendum.

12. To condemn property

under the power of eminent domain.

13. To construct roads, bridges and rail lines as necessary to serve port activities within the district.

14. To annex contiguous territory.

The Port District embraces the following territory located within Madison County: Granite City Township, Venice Township, Nameoki Township, Chouteau Township, south of the Cahokia Diversion Channel.

The Port District may annex contiguous territory not within another port district and, in turn, the district may be annexed by a general purpose unit of local government.

The influence of the Port District, territorially, is more extensive than that defined. Extra-territorial influences include transportation services to industries in all parts of the United States and the world.

Of the Tri-City Regional Port District Board's seven members, each is a resident of the district.

Four members are appointed by the governor of Illinois and three members by the mayors of the Cities of Granite City, Madison and Venice.

Each member serves for a term of three years, with a chairman elected by the board and a secretary and treasurer each appointed by the board.

The Tri-City Port's general manager, Carl A. Rantz, is the chief executive officer of the district, employed by the board to oversee development and operations.

He also performs coordination functions with port occupants and users, and represents the district when necessary in such functions as participation in the Missouri-Illinois Port Association and Metropolitan Port Development Task Force activities.

A.S. Taylor is assistant general manager. Mrs. Velda Taylor is office manager and Randall Robertson is attorney for the port district.

Revenues received by the district annually are derived from six major sources:

Land and facility rentals, 22 per cent.

Through-put charges, 17 per cent.

Fleet charges, 4 per cent.

Scale receipts, 3 per cent.

State appropriation, 49 per cent.

And interest on investments, 5 per cent.

Revenues are used to retire general bond issues, pay staff salaries, pay land rent charges, and pay other costs associated with port operation and maintenance.

The Tri-City District through its staff and board deals regularly with units of local government, regional, public and private coordinative bodies, and various departments of the state and federal governments.

Formal and ad hoc relationships exist between the port district and the following bodies:

Army Corps of Engineers.

U.S. Department of Commerce.

Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development.

Office of the Governor, State of Illinois.

Illinois Division of Waterways.

Illinois Capital Development Board.

Madison County.

District municipalities.

Southeastern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission.

East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

Illinois Metro-East Development Corporation.

St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association.

The district participates with these entities on programs and issues which relate to waterborne commerce and industrial development.

The operational center is located on the Chain of Rocks Canal, a navigational channel of the Mississippi River.

Within the harbor, Tri-City Port District controls the operation of three public port facilities and one private port facility.

The district controls a 300-acre tract of land adjacent to the harbor of which 70 acres are currently dedicated to existing port operations; 200 acres reserved for future port expansions and new port facilities; and 130 acres being developed as an industrial park for the accommodation of process industries and warehousing.

The district maintains an office and scale facility at the main entrance to the port on Main Street.

The TRCPD has an existing capability for handling most types of bulk liquid products through facilities operated by the Rock Oil Co.

Current docking facilities consist of an enclosed, barge-mounted operations structure with three 1,000 GPM centrifugal pumps.

Existing equipment and services allow liquid commodity transfer between rail, truck and barge carriers.

A foot oil line permits bulk transfer of commodities such as soybean oil, molasses, vegetable oils, and the like.

Facilities are also available for steaming of barges and rail cars.

Existing bulk liquid storage capacities within the district total 25.9 million gallons in four major tank categories:

300,000 gallons caustic soda, 3,000,000 gallons fuel oil, 12,000,000 gallons fuel oil in heated tanks, 10,000,000 gallons fuel oil in heated tanks.

A truck terminal provides for increased landside transshipment activities.

This service and facility, like all existing and proposed bulk liquid operations, is operated as a public terminal with availability to all users to the extent that capacities allow.

Tri-City Port District's existing dry bulk terminal, operated by Bulk Service Corp., is capable of handling the transfer of all types of granular dry bulk products between barge, truck and rail.

Present harbor and docking facilities, including an 800-foot water frontage, consist of a captive barge with a tractor crawler crane and clamshell bucket for barge unloading.

Crane operations load a hopper-fed conveyor which transports material to truck and rail facilities located adjacent to the dock.

For outbound dry bulk shipments, trucks and rail cars dump into two single rail hopper pits and one truck pit which feed a conveyor for transfer to barges.

Existing dry bulk facilities have the capability of moving up to one million tons annually.

Commodities currently handled by Bulk Service include: coke, corn, soybean meal, soda ash, fertilizer, soybeans, wheat, and corn gluten pellets.

Proposed improvements to the dry bulk commodities transfer facilities include an automated system for loading, unloading, storage, and retrieval of materials, greatly increasing handling capacities.

In 1975, TRCPD acquired a general cargo dock and warehousing from the Bi-State Development Agency.

This facility is operated, under lease, by the St. Louis Terminal Corp. as a public dock.

The existing general cargo facilities consist of a high level dock with an approximate 200-foot water frontage.

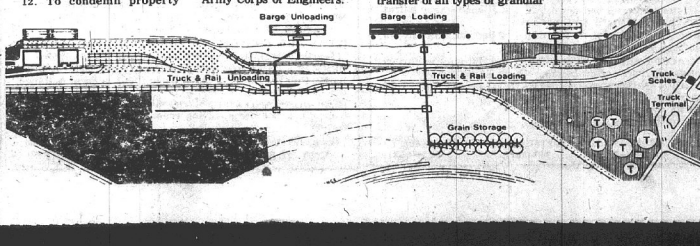

In addition to the public dock facilities, operations, the National Steel Corporation (Granite City Steel) also has private docking facilities within the harbor area leased from TRCPD.

Granite City Steel's leased facilities are used exclusively for that company's shipments and receipts.

Direct customer services provided by the TRCPD include scaling of trucks, arrangements for protective services (police and fire), and the initiation of coordination or other communications between potential port users and terminal operators.

The district also assumes or coordinates maintenance of its own facilities (internal roads and railroads), and performs its own promotional activities which benefit existing TRCPD occupants and terminal operators.

In addition, the district anticipates development of a large single port facility at the north end of the Chain of Rocks Canal in the future. The present harbor is near the southern end of the eight-mile canal, which serves as the Mississippi River channel here.

SEPTEMBER SPECIAL LAY-A-WAY NOW FOR CHRISTMAS

POLKA MASS will be performed Sunday at an 11 a.m. Eucharistic celebration at St. Peter and Paul Church, Alton, by the Plavi Dunva Tamburitza. The group, which is made up of four members from different parts of the county, includes Paul Goldasich (kneeling), of Granite City, and standing, from left, Ray Slapak, John Polovich and Glen Polovich. Book fair to aid library

Thousands of used books for the average reader or the special book collector will go on sale Sunday, Sept. 28, at the second annual Book Fair sponsored by the Friends of Lovejoy Library of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The fair will begin at 1 p.m. Sunday in the lobby of the Communications Building. Admission and parking are free.

A two-hour "preview" beginning at 11 a.m. will cost viewers $1. Books for sale range in interest from travel and exploration, biography and American and local history to classic literature and antiquarian. Autographed books and first editions will be available.

Special items for sale will be Colonial tavern licenses and Frederic Remington and Winslow Homer wood engravings.

Book appraisal and book-finding services will be available. Live music on Medieval instruments played by the SIUE Collegium Musicum will be featured at the book fair. Comprising students and faculty, the Collegium is dedicated to the study and performance of early and rarely-performed music.

A second-day book sale will begin at 9 a.m. Monday, Sept. 29.

Proceeds from the book fair will be used to benefit SIUE's Lovejoy Library.

New police cars, noise issue topics in Venice

Venice aldermen last week gave the fire department permission to hold an open house on Saturday, Oct. 11, from noon until 5 p.m., and present two bicycles to Venice children visiting the fire station; approved advertising for bids for two new police cars to be turned into the city controller's office by 3 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 14; approved firemen purchasing a new nozzle; approved a business permit for Linda M. Hedgcock of Jennings, Mo., to operate the diner at the foot of the viaduct; approved Douglas K. Over to operate a garage for auto and truck repair at the intersection of Broadway and Madison Avenue.

Mayor Ebersold reported to the council that a study in regard to sewer repairs is being made and that he is gathering all available information in an effort to get financial assistance from the federal government.

Thomas Fields, administrative assistant to Mayor Ebersold, reported that a public hearing on the noise pollution problem caused at the Terminal Railroad Association switching yards has been postponed until Thursday, Oct. 30.

"I have been informed by Gregory Zak of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) that within the next three weeks sound retarders will be put up on an experimental basis to reflect the noise away from Venice residents," Fields said. "If this works out to IEPA standards, the entire switching area will have the sound retarders up by spring," Fields added.

Woman injured

Mrs. Lois Mull, 19, of 2436 Lincoln Ave., was injured in a three-car accident on Nameoki Road north of East 28th Street last week.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Daniel Mull, which was involved in an accident on wet pavement with the cars of John Rozzycki, 1701 Elizabeth St., and Brenda Carver, Rural Route One, Box 362, Granite City. All were northbound when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Mull was taken by her husband to St. Elizabeth Hospital with pain to her neck and back. X-rays were taken and she was released.

$130,000 grant for sewer engineering

The U. S. Environmental Protection Agency informed the Madison County Special Sewer Committee that the EPA has approved and is sending $130,000 to help pay engineering fees on the proposed Four Township Sanitary Sewer Program.

Walter Sparks announced Thursday that the committee has been conferred on hiring a new bonding attorney to replace Horace Calvo who resigned after being named a circuit judge in the Third Judicial Circuit.

Sparks reported efforts to obtain the necessary easements for the sanitary sewers in Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships are proceeding well and the committee should be ready to seek bids in the near future.

A construction contract must be awarded by Dec. 31, if the committee is to keep its federal grant for the sewer project.
